G. O. P. Hopes to Put Candidate in Field to Off Set Democrat Victory

ELEVEN FOR HOUSE

Seven Incumbents for U. S. Congressman Will Not Have Any Opposition

DES MOINES, June 2.—(UP)—Republican voters in Iowa went to the polls in the state primary election today to choose a candidate for the United States senate whom they hope can retrieve for their party the seat that was lost six years ago to Democratic Senator Daniel F. Stead.

Stead was unopposed on the Democratic side of today's primary ballot but Republican votes will decide a four-cornered political battle in which Governor John Hammill and Congressman L. J. Dickinson have been leading figures.

400,000 To Vote

A vote of 400,000 was anticipated.

Whether Hammill or Dickinson or either of their two less favored rivals, Major Frank P. Lund or W. O. Payne win the nomination, party leaders feel confident the G. O. P. standard bearer will displace Stead who is the first Democratic senator from Iowa in a half century. It was on a split in the Republican ranks that Stead rode into office and there is no threat of a similar division this year.

The senatorial campaign, centered about the tariff and the political records of the candidates, has been vitriolic but hardly more so than the race for the gubernatorial chair that will be vacated by Hammill.

Taxation was the issue in the Republican gubernatorial race with Dan W. Turner favoring a state income tax and his opponents Ed M. Smith and Otto Lange opposing it. Fred P. Hagemann was unopposed on the Democratic side.

Eleven seats in the United States House of Representatives were at stake in today's primary but seven incumbents will be re-nominated without opposition.

Swedish Cabinet Resigns In Body

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—(UP)—The cabinet of Premier Arvid Lindman resigned today.

King Gustav immediately called leaders of the opposition into conference to select a new premier.

The Lindman cabinet, appointed October 2, 1928, was conservative, commanding 73 votes of the premier's own party in the lower chamber of parliament (riksdag), and being supported by other parties to overcome the strength of the social democrats. The social democrats hold 90 seats in the lower chamber.

L. A. CONTEMPT OF COURT CASE IS POSTPONED

Judge Denounces Executives of Record for Filing Prejudice Papers

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(UP)—After denouncing three executives of the Los Angeles Record for filing prejudice affidavits against him, Superior Judge Frank Collier today denied prejudice, persisted in sitting in their contempt of court case and then postponed the opening of the hearing until next Monday.

The jurist's action in refusing to entertain the prejudice affidavits was said to be unique in court history.

He said that in his opinion an affidavit of prejudice had no bearing in a contempt of court proceedings.

Judge Collier further ruled that if William Gibbs McAdoo and other attorneys for the defense did not agree with his views, they might seek a writ of prohibition from the state supreme court.

Continues Case

He then continued the case to afford time for the defendants, H. B. Briggs, publisher, Gilbert Brown, editor, and Rodney Brink, managing editor, to seek such a writ if they desired it.

The contempt charges were brought against the executives by the Los Angeles Bar association and were based on a series of cartoons and editorials which criticized the district attorney and the grand jury for the manner of handling the Julian Petroleum corporation case.

Judge Collier opened the court session by remarking that he noted "that the usual affidavit expected in a case of this kind has been filed and I am not surprised."

He then read through the affidavit, segregating what he termed "true" from what he said bitterly was "false."

Affidavits Filed

The affidavits filed by Briggs, Brown and Brink charged that Judge Collier has retained an association during his six years on the supreme bench. It also was alleged that the association may

VESSEL REPORTED BURNING AT BERTH

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 2.—(UP)—A report to police headquarters late today said a fire had broken out on the steamer Californian in its berth at pier 6.

One alarm has been sounded and two boats have been ordered to the scene.

The Californian is listed in Lloyd's registry as of 7,899 tons built in 1922. She is owned by the American-Hawaiian steamship company and docked yesterday from San Francisco.

Ford Again Cuts Price Of Autos

DETROIT, June 2.—(UP)—Price cuts ranging from $5 to $25 on Ford cars and trucks were announced by the Ford Motor Co. The reductions are effective immediately.

The phaeton and roadster are the only models in the Ford line not affected.

These reductions in prices are made in accordance with the company's policy of lowering its prices from time to time in order to pass on to the public the benefits derived from economies in manufacture," the announcement explained.

Ford prices were last reduced in November, coincident with the company's increase in its minimum wage from $6 to $7 a day.

Triplets Born To Orange County Cow

Segerstrom brothers, dairymen at Greenville, today were claiming for a cow in their herd a world's record for production—the Holstein cow in question a few days ago gave birth to three calves.

Each calf is perfect in form. Each is strong and hearty and all will live to become full grown animals—unless they are sold for veal.

Another cow in the same herd some three years ago gave birth to triplets.

DAVIS PRIMARY CAMPAIGN COST OVER $130,000

Figures Revealed When Senate Committee Resumes Inquiry

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Known expenditures of the primary ticket headed by James J. Davis, Republican senatorial candidate in Pennsylvania, were brought to a total of $366,144 by the senate primary investigating committee today.

From half a dozen campaign managers the committee estimated the expenses as follows: Brown Davis, eastern headquarters, $129,693; Philadelphia city organization (estimated), $60,000; Pittsburgh city organization, $88,460; Western state headquarters, $77,450; Total, $366,144.

CONFEDERATE ARMY VETERANS GATHER

BILOXI, Miss., June 2.—(UP)—A sharp bugle call sounded through a camp of army tents today and several thousand men, among the last of the Confederate army, snapped into attention in company streets.

Between four and five thousand of these gray-clad men were gathered here on their 40th, and what may be their last, annual reunion.

A few hundred yards from the camp was the post war home of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy.

As the "Boys in Gray" gathered and shook each others hands again, they joined in lusty "rebel yells" that gave no hint of the years that have dimmed their sight and stooped their shoulders.

500 HOMELESS IN NEW MEXICO STORM

WAGON MOUND, N. M., June 2.—(UP)—Relief agencies brought food, clothing and medical supplies today to more than 500 persons made homeless here by a tornado which left a toll of two dead, 20 injured and thousands of dollars property damage over the week end.

More than 100 residences and business establishments were left in ruins by the twister, which followed severe rain and hail storms.

The tornado rushed through the town Saturday, taking the lives of Alfred Holbrook, 18, local youth, and Charles Giest, 35, a tourist, from Patterson, N. J.

HERBERT LORD DIES AT HOME IN WASHINGTON

Former Director of Budget Passes After Illness of Many Months

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Gen. Herbert C. Lord, formerly director of the budget during three administrations, died at his home here today. He was 70 years old.

Lord died about 9 o'clock at his apartment home. He had been suffering with stomach trouble for some time.

Lord was appointed director of the budget bureau by President Coolidge on July 1, 1923, succeeding former Vice President Charles G. Dawes. Lord served in that capacity until May 31, 1929, when he resigned to enter private business in New York City.

Prior to becoming budget director, Lord served as chief of the army bureau of finance and had a distinguished record in that position. He was especially noted when director of the budget for his urgent advocacy of strict economy. In carrying out the Coolidge economy policies, Lord organized the famous "woodpecker club," which was comprised of government employees who vied with one another in economizing.

Lord took an active part in the two yearly business meetings of the government at which he presented the fiscal record of the government and demonstrated new ways to economize.

Lord was a native of Maine, having been born in Rockland on Dec. 6, 1859. He graduated from Colby college in 1884, receiving a master of arts degree there in 1889.

CANNON PROTEST WILL BE IGNORED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—Members of the senate lobby committee indicated today they would ignore the protest of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., that they are not empowered to inquire into campaign funds he collected in 1928.

"We have not hesitated to inquire into the political activities of other witnesses," Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, acting chairman of the committee, said when questioned about Cannon's statement.

Walsh said the committee would call Cannon tomorrow as previously planned. The Methodist Bishop has been summoned to explain why he accounted to the house for only $17,000 of the $65,000 he received from E. C. Jameson during the 1928 campaign for the anti-Smith committee of Virginia. Jameson is a New York insurance executive and an ardent dry.

ARGENTINE WOULD SUPPRESS MOVIES

BUENOS AIRES, June 2.—(UP)—Foreign made talking and synchronized motion pictures would be virtually suppressed under a new measure which the Argentine Cinema association has urged the municipal council to adopt.

The measure provides for an increase of 200 percent in taxation on theaters showing foreign films, whether silent, synchronized or talking. Theaters showing Argentine films exclusively would be exempt from the tax increase.

A technical committee of the council was authorized to investigate the practicability of two other bills directed against foreign films, one increasing theater taxes 50 percent when foreign language pictures are shown and the other completely suppressing foreign manufactured talking pictures.

No Fatalities Are Reported Over Weekend

Orange County Highways More Congested Than at Any Time This Year

WITH THE ROADS OF Orange county more congested over the week end than at any time this year, more accidents were reported to Orange county officials and more persons reported hurt than at any time since last summer.

A total of 19 persons were hurt in a series of 15 accidents, it was reported. Only a few of those, however, were seriously injured and many of whom were treated in hospitals yesterday were today resting well at their homes.

Lowell Little, 23, of West Phillips street, Whittier, was believed to have been fatally injured at 8 o'clock last night, when the motorcycle he was riding skidded on gravel, on an "S" turn west of La Habra, severely injuring him.

The handlebar of the machine is believed to have struck him in the head as he fell, causing a possible fracture of the skull. He also was severely cut and bruised. He was taken to La Habra for first aid treatment and then removed to the Fullerton General hospital. No other machine was involved in the accident, according to Ernie Sawyer, state traffic officer, who made an investigation.

Two Are Injured

Two persons were hurt and a third arrested as the result of an automobile accident at 6:45 o'clock last night on the state highway, north of La Habra, in which four automobiles were involved.

BOMB EXPLODED ON THEATER IN FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—(UP)—Police here today were attempting to locate a taxicab seen leaving the Royal theater a few minutes after a bomb had exploded on the roof of the theater early Sunday morning.

The explosion, which was timed to take place after patrons had departed, tore an eight foot hole in the metal roof, damaged the projection room and shattered the windows of nearby buildings. Authorities were working on the assumption that the object of the bombing was the destruction of a $25,000 sound film projection machine, which was undamaged.

The Royal, which employs non-union help, has been in litigation for over a year as the result of discharging musicians when sound apparatus was installed.

MEXICAN FLYING AGE ARRIVES IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 2.—(UP)—Colonel Roberto Fierro, Mexican ace flying from Los Angeles to New York, landed at Winburn field at 11:30 o'clock today.

Colonel Fierro and his companion, A. Cortes, spent last night at a local flying field, their plane was forced down late Sunday when a leaky gas line exhausted their fuel supply.

The landing gear of the plane was slightly damaged in the forced landing. It was repaired this morning, and after replenishing the gasoline supply the airmen took off for San Antonio at 9:45 a. m.

Colonel Fierro said he probably would remain here until Wednesday when he will resume his flight to New York, from where he will attempt a non-stop goodwill flight to Mexico City.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS HIT HARD BY COURT RULING

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—An interstate commerce commission order now in effect reducing materially the freight rates on shipments of wine grapes and other deciduous fruits from California to eastern points, was overturned by the supreme court today.

Justice Vanderventer read the court's opinion, holding the commission acted illegally in deciding the Hoch-Smith farm freight rate resolution changed the law to authorize special low rates for farm products. The resolution does not authorize rates lower than were legal under previous law, the court ruled.

If the act were held to authorize such lower special rates it was said there would be a serious question as to the act's constitutionality.

The order reduced rates from $1.73 and $1.62 per hundredweight to $1.60 and $1.50 went into effect in 1928, affecting the annual shipments of more than 1,000,000 pounds, of which more than 50 per cent are wine grapes. Other fruits affected were peaches, plums, apricots, pears, cherries, and tape grapes.

The railroads, supported by the New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan state agriculture departments, contended the fruit shipments were especially expensive because of the seasonal character of the shipments and the refrigerator cars necessary. The railroads first asked a special three-judge federal district court in California for an injunction annulling the commission's reduction order. This was refused and the railroad appealed to the supreme court, meantime making an unsuccessful effort to hold up the order's operation pending action on this appeal.

HOOVER'S BUSINESS SURVEY SHOWS INDUSTRY IS BACKED BY CONFIDENCE OF PUBLIC

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—President Hoover's business survey conference has found American industry backed by a hearty public confidence in the future, struggling successfully to overcome the temporary set-back it received from the stock market crash last fall.

In a review of existing conditions in more than 100 lines of business made public last night by Julius Barnes, conference chairman, the following outstanding trends were announced:

"Large American industry continues to carry out the construction program forecast last December.

"Continued capital improvements supported by large scale financing evidence a confidence in enlarged future earning power and preparation for it.

Rates Decrease

"In America and Europe there are evidences of increasing reserves of accumulated credit with consequent decreases of interest rates and resulting benefits for production and distribution."

The conference which issued the report was called by Mr. Hoover last fall immediately after the historical descent of stock values appeared to menace American prosperity.

In the current report virtually every line of domestic business was found holding its own but foreign trade prospects were not found so conducive to optimism.

In April, the report said, American foreign trade reached the lowest level in seven years. This was blamed on low commodity prices, import restrictions, political disturbances and low business levels in such leading commercial countries as England, Germany, Belgium, Spain, Austria, and India.

Building and loan associations are doing a good business, the report said; savings totals remain practically unchanged, with normal withdrawals; and six per cent more life insurance was purchased last April than in April, 1929.

Building Contracts

Supplementing previous reports on public and utility construction, the conference said non-residential building was approaching last year's value. However, the value

CHEST NEARING ITS GOAL FOR 1930 RECEIPTS

With one more quarterly payment yet to fall due, the Santa Ana Community Chest today had received within $10,733.05 of the total sum pledged in the campaign for 1929-30 funds, it was revealed at noon today at the annual meeting of the organization held at the Y. M. C. A.

The pleasing situation was accepted as a demonstration of the value of the maintenance of a year-round office and the efficiency of the office management.

The condition of the pledges was disclosed by Manager R. R. Miller in his annual report, which was unanimously approved.

Pledges and subscriptions for the year aggregated $45,150 and collections to date total $34,366.95, according to Miller's report.

Commenting on the institution of a permanent office from the viewpoint of one of the agencies participating in the chest, Ralph Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., declared that the plan had justified itself by more generally solidifying the agencies, all of which have been able to do better work because of the policy of the chest of distributing definite sums each month to each unit, and in the elimination of overlapping and competition in welfare work. J. G. Mitchell, Salvation Army representative on the board of directors, also spoke approvingly of the maintenance of a year-round office.

W. A. Taylor, spoke briefly on the splendid management of chest affairs by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Miller, and himself said institution of the new plan was good business policy.

Mrs. Upton, of the Ruth sanitarium, Los Angeles, and A. C. Gillen and Miss Rachel Schwallier, of the Catholic Welfare society, were introduced as special guests at the meeting.

Acting upon motion of J. P. Baumgartner, chairman of the nominating committee, the following directors were elected for the coming year:

Representatives of participating organizations: Alex. Brownridge, Boy Scouts; O. H. Barr, Y. M. C. A.; J. G. Mitchell, Salvation Army; E. S. Morrow, Crippled Children's Relief association of Orange county; Miss Mabel McFadden, Y. W. C. A.; Fred Raftery, Red Cross; J. B. Tucker, Veterans' Welfare board; M. O. Robbins, Children's Home Society of California.

Members at large: W. A. Taylor, W. H. Spurgeon, Rev. O. Scott McFarland, George S. Smith, T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. E. D. White, W. B. Williams, A. N. Zerman, B. A. Crawford, W. V. Whitson, Mrs. M. E. Holmes, Sam Hurwitz, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, J. A. Cranston, Clyde C. Downing, George Dunton, W. K. Hillyard, Mrs. Charles F. Smith, Harry D. Riley, B. V. Curry, M. C. Maloney, E. T. McFadden.

FORBES NAMED NEW JAPAN AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(UP)—W. Cameron Forbes of Boston, who headed President Hoover's commission to Haiti recently, has been selected by the president to be ambassador to Japan. It was learned here today. The state department has forwarded his name to Tokyo in the usual way to determine if he is acceptable.

Forbes will succeed William R. Castle Jr., who was designated as ambassador to Japan during the London naval conference, but who was recently renamed to his old post as assistant secretary of state by President Hoover. Castle will return soon to the United States.

Until Castle took over temporarily a few months ago, the Japanese post had been vacant after the retirement of former Ambassador Charles MacVeagh.

Selection of an ambassador to Japan will fill the remaining major diplomatic vacancy.

ZEPPELIN PREPARES FOR FINAL JOURNEY

LAKEHURST, N. J., June 2.—(UP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin stood fueled and ready in the naval air station hangar here today for the final leg of its pioneering commercial flight linking three continents.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, has set 10 o'clock tonight as the hour at which the world's largest airship will depart for its base, Friedrichshafen, Germany, to end the 22,000 mile voyage which started two weeks ago yesterday and took weeks ago when it started the Atlantic to Brazil, then northward to the United States.

HEALTHY GENERATION

Interesting Figures Given Out By National Headquarters at Evanston

EVANSTON, Ill., June 2.—(UP)—Presidents of 255 colleges in 45 states believe there is less student drinking, that there is a larger number of non-drinking students than ever and a growing trend of student opinion against liquor, according to a questionnaire sent out by the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The 255 answers in regard to present conditions as tabulated and made public today by national headquarters of the W. C. T. U., follow:

Less drinking than before prohibition .. 146
No drinking .. 44
Drinking either unknown or almost unknown .. 47
Same amounts before prohibition .. 8
Drinking conditions worse than before prohibition .. 3
Uphold Coaches

"The views of the presidents," the W. C. T. U. said, "coincide with the statements of the two famous football coaches, Alonzo Stagg, University of Chicago, and Fielding Yost, Michigan, who told the judiciary committee of the house that student drinking was vastly less since prohibition and are in agreement with the idea expressed by Coach W. W. Roper, who said drinking conditions are so bad that he hesitated to send his children to college.

"Presidents report almost three times as many colleges where there is no drinking as the organized wets have put forward as institutions where there are more drinkers than non-drinkers."

The W. C. T. U. said the inquiry

Santa Ana Church Quartet Wins District Contest

WILL COMPETE IN CONVENTION AT SACRAMENTO

At the Southern California district Christian Endeavor meeting and contest, which was held at the First Christian church yesterday afternoon, winners to represent this district at the state convention in Sacramento June 25 to 29 were selected in the intermediate oratorical and quartet events.

Winners, who will be given the trip to the state convention, were David Price, orator from San Diego Evangelical Church Endeavor society, representative of San Diego county, and the male quartet from the First Christian Church Endeavor society of Santa Ana. Members of the quartet are, Clarence and Kenneth Rehrs and Paul and Ed Elsenner.

Contestants in the oratorical contest, in addition to the winner, included Lucille Sommerfield, of the Upland Menomotte society, representing San Bernardino county; Ruth Andis, of the Riverside United Brethren society, representing Riverside county; Clara Stanfield, of the El Modena Friends society, representing Orange county; and Maybelle Afford, of the Santa Barbara First Christian church society, representing Santa Barbara county. County contests had been conducted previously in oratorical and singing events to determine the contestants who appeared here yesterday.

Judges for the oratorical contest were the Rev. C. F. Martin, Orange Avenue Christian church, Santa Ana; Carson Smith, director of young peoples' work, United Presbyterian church, Santa Ana; and Grace Blackstone, Fullerton.

Quartets from San Bernardino and Santa Barbara counties contested with the Orange county winners in that phase of the competition.

State officials in Christian Endeavor work who were present at the meeting yesterday included Warren Mendenhall, of Anaheim, state superintendent; Miss Fannie McIntyre, of San Diego, assistant state intermediate superintendent; Miss Emma Ruth, of Redfield, state intermediate superintendent; and Miss Dorothy Abbott, of Placentia, Orange county president and assistant intermediate state superintendent.

The winners here yesterday will compete with the winners in four other districts in the state for first honors at the state convention later this month.

Hazel Frickett, of San Diego, conducted the devotionals at the meeting yesterday afternoon. A large crowd from Orange county was on hand to welcome the delegations from other counties in the district.

FOR PUBLICITY

BUDAPEST, June 2.—A smartly dressed girl walked over the Margaret bridge and astonished passers-by by throwing herself into the water. Just in the nick of time a well-dressed man in a motorboat appeared to save her. It was later found that the girl was a movie actress whose press agent had planned the stunt to bring her publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jones of Los Angeles, riding with C. C. Jones, of 6536 South Brynmaur street, Los Angeles, were injured. They were taken to Anaheim for treatment and then removed to their home.

According to a report of the accident made by Ernie Sawyer, state traffic officer, Jones was traveling East on the state highway and a car driven by Don Marsh, 22, of 139 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, was traveling west. A car operated by A. Pinto, of 669 South Workman street, Los Angeles, attempted to pass through the space between the two machines and struck the Jones car, causing it to dive head-on into the Marsh machine. The Marsh car then struck another machine in the heavy traffic.

Pinto was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and driving on the wrong side of the highway. He is scheduled to appear in court here Friday.

An unknown Mexican was reported to have been seriously injured Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock, when he was knocked from a bicycle while riding west on Fifth street, near the Santa Ana river bridge. Vic Rogers, who lives on West Fifth street, reported to the sheriff's office that the man was lying unconscious in the road and that the driver of the car which struck him apparently did not stop to render aid.

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, U. J. Ordway, 63, musician, of 421 East Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, was arraigned in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning. His hearing was set for June 5, at 9 a. m., and bail of $500 was demanded.

According to a report made here by Ole Euser, state traffic officer, a car driven by Orway collided with a machine driven by W. Schweiss, of 417 South Spadra street, Fullerton, near Tustin at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. No one was reported hurt in the accident.

Orway was arrested at the time and taken to the county jail. J. F. Anderson, superintendent of the gas department of the Union Oil company at Huntington Beach, suffered a broken rib in an auto collision at Orange and Fourteenth street, Huntington Beach, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning when the auto in which he was riding collided with a car driven by Donald Sautler of Ocean park in which Mrs. Sautler, owner of the car and five other were riding.

Both autos were turned upside down from the collision. Several passengers in the Sautler car received bad cuts and bruises, and the Sautler boy had a badly injured arm. Besides a broken rib Anderson was cut and bruised, receiving a severe cut on the leg near the knee.

The Dixon ambulance took the injured passengers to Dr. Ewing's office where they received emergency treatment and were afterwards taken to the Santa Ana hospital.

C. O. Barney, of 2074 Cedar street, suffered cuts and bruises about the head, hands and shoulder at 6:40 a. m., yesterday, when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a car driven by Amos Neldo, of Delhi road and Main streets, at St. Andrews place and Orange avenue, according to a report made to the police station.

Little Girl Hurt

A two-year-old child of Mrs. Rufina Grochow, of 141 South Bavaria street, Orange, suffered from shock, when the automobile driven by its mother collided with a car driven by W. H. Beadle, of 504 North Main street at Fourth and Lacy streets, Saturday afternoon. The child was taken to its home. Reports of the accident were made at the police station.

Juliet Knowles, of 4178 Seventh street, Riverside, suffered bruises about the hips, head and elbow, and Cordon Knowles, of the same address suffered a sprained wrist and bruises when the cars of Willis E. Baker, of 103 West Third street, and D. E. Leth, of 650 Newport avenue, Newport Beach, collided at Third and Bristol streets at 4:55 p. m., Sunday.

After being given medical aid, the injured were able to be taken to their homes, according to a police report.

J. Marion Ochoa, 21, of 1005 East Santa Ana street, Anaheim, and George Preble, Santa Ana, well known baseball players here, narrowly escaped death or injury when the car in which they were riding, overturned on South Main street, at Delhi, at 9:45 p. m., Sunday.

The car went into a ditch to avoid collision with a machine coming out of a side street, it was reported, and turned turtle. Both Ochoa and Preble were thrown clear of the machine, which probably accounted for their escape from injury. They are said to have been traveling at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident.

A Mrs. Burnett was treated at the St. Joseph's hospital Saturday afternoon for injuries received when the automobile she was riding in overturned, it was reported. The accident was reported at the sheriff's office by John L. Lenney, of the Elks Club, San Francisco.

Car Demolished

No one was reported injured when automobiles driven by Jesus Franco, of 924 Logan street and Jesus Rodriguez, of 623 Fullerton avenue, Anaheim, collided yesterday afternoon one and a half miles west of the bridge on West Fifth street.

The Rodriguez car was demolished but Rodriguez was thrown clear and escaped injury, it was reported.

Three persons were injured at 7 o'clock Saturday night when a car driven by George S. Harrel, of 337 1-2 North Ogden street, Los Angeles, collided with a machine driven by George M. Moffett, of 808 Eighth street, Coronado, near Culver's corner, on the state highway south of Tustin.

The Moffett machine attempted to pass the Harrel machine at the side of the road. E. H. Richards, of Los Angeles, suffered a badly injured left leg, the knee cap being torn completely off, while Henry Ludwig, of Los Angeles, received cuts and bruises. He was taken to the St. Joseph's hospital here. William Ludwig also was treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises.

Ernest Fulsom, of Garden Grove, received cuts and bruises when the automobile he was driving collided with another machine on West Chapman avenue, west of the county hospital Saturday. He was taken to the Garden Grove hospital for medical treatment and later removed to his home, it was reported.

Four Injured

E. C. Wood and his wife and two small children were reported injured when the car he was driving collided with a machine driven by Elizabeth Gibson, of 87 Congress street, Pasadena at West Broadway and Lora road, Anaheim at 3:45 p. m. Sunday. They were taken to the Anaheim hospital and are not believed to have been seriously hurt.

An automobile driven by E. T. Sharp, 614 Golden Drive, Los Angeles, turned over twice at 8:30 o'clock last night near Gypsy Flats, on the state highway between here and San Juan Capistrano, causing serious injury to Mrs. Sharp, according to a report made by the state police.

The car sideswiped a machine reported driven by Fred Nieblas, of El Toro, according to a report made by Ole Buer, state traffic officer. Mrs. Sharp was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

was undertaken "because of widespread propaganda that college is unsafe."

Healthy Generation

"Instead of the drunken condition," the report continued, "charges against American youth by organized wet propaganda, the picture presented by college presidents who have taught boys and girls both before and after prohibition, is one of smart, forward looking, thinking generation, clear-eyed, healthy and doing more in athletics and study partly on account of less alcohol."

Even at colleges where there is admitted drinking, the presidents declare in almost every instance that there is less than there was prior to prohibition and the weight of college presidents' opinion is against the repeal of the 18th amendment.

Many college presidents, the report said, blame student drinking on the older generation and quoted President Hibben of Princeton as saying: "College communities are not wholly to be blamed for young men and women in college are reflecting merely what is going on in their homes and in their social environment."

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT
Forces which are unseen and eternal sustain your spiritual life, just as food and drink conserve and maintain your physical strength.
Your yearning to be near your dear one in Paradise will help to bring you close to the source of life so that you will find increasing courage and strength.
Hardship and tribulation will not overwhelm you if you are learning to trust in what God gives. Indeed, your struggling on through the dark days, with faith undaunted, will reveal a power within you which death itself cannot overwhelm, and which deepens your conviction that an eternity of loving companionship with your dear one is shining before you.

CHARGE GRAND THEFT TO PAIR IN JAIL HERE

With two men being held in custody by sheriff's officers, a powerful ring which has been robbing Orange county avocado growers of thousands of dollars worth of fruit during the past several weeks, today was believed to have been broken, following the alleged confession of one of the men and the implication of the other.

The prisoners are Robert D. Le Mond, 45, a fruit stand operator of the Telegraph road, just out of Los Angeles, and John Amolin, of Los Angeles, who a year ago finished a term in the county jail here on a charge of stealing fruit.

Both are being held in jail on grand theft charges, while LeMond has waived his preliminary examination in Los Angeles county on a charge of receiving stolen property and has been held to answer to the superior court there.

The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriffs P. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy, and Jess Buckles, of the co-operation of two members of the Los Angeles sheriff's office, farm theft detail, John P. Slough and H. E. Ritchie.

The avocado thefts reported in the county during the past five weeks will amount to more than $2000, it was reported. Most of the fruit has been recovered by the officers and has been returned to the rightful owners.

On the night of May 8, 618 pounds of avocados were reported stolen from the San Joaquin Fruit ranch here. On May 15, 1000 additional pounds were stolen, and on May 19, after days and nights of hard work, the officers recovered the fruit at the W. P. Peyton Fruit company, in Los Angeles, where they learned it had been left on consignment by a man named Robert D. LeMond. Search for him was started, which led to the Imperial valley, and he was arrested by Howard, Buckles, Slough and Ritchie at El Centro, where he had gone with his son.

He was brought back to Santa Ana and lodged in the county jail, and while here, he implicated John Amolin, whom he declared stole most of the fruit. Amolin then was rounded up by officers and, although he has not confessed, he is believed to be ready to talk to officers about the crimes, Howard said.

That several thefts were committed by the two men in this county, which never were reported to officers, was indicated by the amount of fruit which was found and confiscated by officers in Los Angeles at the time they found the fruit owned by the San Joaquin Fruit company.

Kaufman Returns To Private Law Practice Today

Closing his career as deputy in the office of District Attorney Z. B. West, where he had served for the past three years, S. B. Kaufman today returned to the private practice of law as a partner of Franklin G. West, the firm name being Kaufman and West. Prior to starting his public duties as deputy district attorney, Kaufman was associated with W. F. Menton, who today begins service in the district attorney's office as chief trial deputy.

Kaufman, who is a graduate of the University of Southern California, passed the bar examination in 1916 and has been practicing law since that time. He has been in Santa Ana for the past 10 years.

The offices of the new partnership are located in the First National bank building.

ROAD CREW WORKS ON FIRST STREET
Starting work today, the county road crew was surfacing First street for a distance of a little over a mile from the city limits of Santa Ana, west to cross the river and hook up with a road system that eventually will provide another route to Long Beach.

County Superintendent of Highways Nat H. Neff stated that the work of changing the old trail to a road is being done with decomposed granite and macadam with a paved dip across the river bed. The road will hook up Buena road with Verano street. From there the road west is paved to a point one mile west of Huntington Beach boulevard. A new highway is projected from Seal Beach, according to Neff, across the Bixby ranch to connect the First street outlet.

Neff expects that the work of resurfacing the road will be completed within one month.

Anaheim Woman Swallows Poison

Mrs. Ella Charles, of 704 South Lemon street, Anaheim, today was in the Orange County hospital recovering from the effects of a quantity of iodine, said to have been swallowed at her home yesterday morning, in what was reported as a suicide attempt.

She was attended by an Anaheim physician, who rushed her to the Orange County hospital. Her condition today was not serious, it was reported. No reason for the asserted suicide attempt was learned here.

Newman, who is an expert on avocados, declared that by the nature of the fruit itself, by its peculiarities, he is able to tell from what part of the country it was taken, and in this way he was able to identify the avocados taken from his company's groves. Huge photographs were taken of separate avocados, and through the markings on the fruit it was determined from what part of the county the fruit was stolen.

"Just another case of where science has it over the man outside the law," Howard said as he exhibited a number of pictures of the fruit at the sheriff's office today.

Howard declared that a charge of robbery of the point of a gun would be filed against Amolin, following identification of the man at the county jail yesterday by J. B. Gordon, foreman of the Herman ranch. Gordon heard someone in his grove one night, almost a year ago. He went to investigate and a man held him up at the point of a pistol, he reported. He identified Amolin as the man.

According to LeMond's alleged confession, Amolin stole the fruit and delivered it to him. He acted as middleman in the deal, although officers declared that the Peyton Fruit company had no knowledge of the crimes and was not a party to them, this company taking the fruit from LeMond in good faith. Both men were to be arraigned in the justice court here today on charges of grand theft.

JUNIOR PILOTS DEFEAT BEACH CITY AVIATORS

Vandermaast Junior Pilots, challenged by a Long Beach group of amateur airmen to their first indoor meet since the local lads affiliated with the Airplane Model League of America, wrested victory from their challengers at a well-attended meet held Saturday morning in the Polytechnic high school auditorium of this city.

There were approximately 15 boys from each group to enter the event, which was based on duration flights with one exception, when R. O. G.'s were entered in a speed and height contest. Jack Livesey, of the Vandermaast Junior Pilots, and George Smith, of the Long Beach group, were the two high point men of the meet, each winning a first and a second place. In counting for points, a first place scored five points; second place, three points, and third place, one point.

The first event was for commercial R. O. G. models, with Dale Rose of this city, scoring 64.5 seconds in duration; George Smith, of Long Beach, scoring 66.2, and Norton Eastwood, also of Long Beach, scoring 58.3 seconds.

In the free-for-all with planes 15 inches or under, young Eastwood scored 169.7 seconds' duration; Jack Livesey, Santa Ana, made 140.1 seconds, and Charles Tanvater, of Long Beach, 135 seconds. The 10-inch, R. O. G. duration contest resulted as follows: Jack Livesey, 178 seconds; Dale Bosc, 162 seconds, and Bob Brown, 159. All three were Vandermaast Junior Pilots.

In the gliders' duration contest, Ralph Sharon, Long Beach, scored 9.1; Wayne Fredericks, Santa Ana, 8.2, and Eugene Goldman, Long Beach, 7.8. In the climb to the ceiling, Bill Proctor's R. O. G. made it in 3.2 seconds, followed by two Long Beach entrants, George Smith with 3.2 seconds, and Ralph Sharon, scoring 4.6 seconds.

The Long Beach entrants were assembled from different school clubs and the Marti Avio club and were directed by John McCrary, instructor on the Long Beach school playgrounds. The Vandermaast Junior Pilots were accompanied by their director, Raymond Fisher, of the Vandermaast store, and the two men acted as judges in the flights.

A series of such meets will be shared by the youthful enthusiasts from time to time through the summer months, some of the events to be indoors, and some at an outdoor meeting place.

The new German anesthetic, averin, administered by injection, is said to obviate all danger of the usual nausea following ether.

Thief Casts Line Into House, Hooks Purse and Money

Santa Ana's latest type of burglar is the "fishing pole" type. Saturday night someone stood on the outside of the home of Roy D. Lindsey, at 721 South Van Ness street and, with the aid of a fishing pole, stole a purse from a bed inside the house.

A report of the new activity was made to police shortly after the theft. It was learned that the thief used a pole with a line three feet long. After raising up the bedroom window he "cast" his line to the bed and caught the purse.

Aside from numerous trinkets in the purse, the thief escaped with $14 in cash, it was reported.

REPORT THEFT OF THREE CARS HERE

Three automobiles were reported stolen in Santa Ana over the week end, none of which had been recovered late today.

L. Galtan, of 1325 West Second street, reported the theft of his car from a place where he had parked it between Third and Fourth streets on French street last night.

An automobile owned by Ben Mathews, of 732 1-2 Main street, Huntington Beach, was stolen from near Fifth and Sycamore streets last night, according to a report made to the police last night.

Ben Crews, of El Toro, reported to the police that his machine was stolen from near Fifth and French streets, at 8:35 p. m. last night.

LEWIS RELATES STORY OF TRIP THROUGH PERU

Telling the most interesting things seen on a trip to South America, from which he has just recently returned, and describing the educational work among the people of that continent, Harry W. Lewis, of 1770 East Fourth street, addressed the congregation of the First Methodist church at the morning service yesterday.

He told first of his visit in Lima, capital of Peru, where he found the sub-divisions similar to those in Southern California, with ornamental trees and flowers. Rural scenes, however, were quite different, due to the type of houses and adobe walls around all the fields. The district enjoys good electric interurban and street car service and modern automobiles travel fine concrete highways leading to Callao, the port city. The British-American hospital, located at Ballivista, near Lima, a Methodist institution, is considered the best hospital between Valparaiso and Panama, Lewis said.

Telling of the trip to the interior, passing over the divide at an elevation of 14,688 feet, the visit to Inca land at Cusco, was described. The population is composed of the few very wealthy, living in ease and luxury, with the masses in ignorance and poverty.

"As we are rapidly coming to see that better educational advantages are extended to all," Lewis said, "this the missionary organizations of England and America are doing as best they can. In almost every case they have been asked to come, and in many cases by those in political authority."

"Lake Titicaca and the visit in La Paz during the annual Indian fiesta were of special interest. I found the children of many government officials in the Institute Americano."

"Methodist schools were visited in Chile, Buenos Aires and Montevideo, many of which are practically self-supporting with the exception of the salaries of a few missionaries who supervise the work of the native teachers. Numbers of the graduates of American missionary schools become teachers or enter the business or political world. We met them in banks, business houses, schools, hospitals, Y. M. C. A. offices and churches. The graduates of an American school in Bogota, was elected president of Columbia last January. All schools were crowded and many need more earnest Christian teachers."

The only living relative of the graffe is the okapi, found in the Congo forest. For a time it was thought to be related to the zebra.

Deputy District Attorneys Enter New Work Today

William Menton and Preston Turner today assumed their duties as deputies in the office of District Attorney Z. B. West. The appointees fill vacancies created by the resignations of S. B. Kaufman and L. W. Blodgett.

Miss Pauline Knapp, who has been substitute stenographer in the office for the past three weeks, also became an official member of the office staff today. She succeeds Miss Thelma Chadwell, whose resignation became effective today.

McFadden Files For Nomination

Ralph McFadden today had completed and filed his nomination papers for sheriff. Nominating petitions were taken out today by E. B. Trago, for county treasurer; D. McCharles for justice of the peace of Tustin township; J. L. Stanton, for constable of Tustin township and G. S. Bergey, for constable of Huntington Beach.

BLODGET WILL NOT SEEK POST AS PROSECUTOR

L. W. Blodget, former assistant district attorney, who opened offices adjoining those of L. A. West and B. Z. McKinney in the First National bank building today for the resumption of private practice, issued a statement definitely removing himself from consideration as a candidate for district attorney. Blodget, who entered the office of District Attorney Z. B. West as assistant in January, 1927, tried many of the important cases of the office, including several sensational murder trials.

The statement issued today by Blodget follows:

"The persistent efforts of many friends to cause me to enter the race for the office of district attorney make it necessary for me to make a definite statement that, while I appreciate their efforts and interest on my behalf, and while I was tempted at one time to reconsider a former statement that I would not run, I feel I must reiterate that I will not be a candidate for the office."

Blodget, who has lived in Huntington Beach for 24 years, and who, with the exception of two years at the time he first entered the district attorney's office, has been city attorney for that community since his appointment while in the service in 1928, is moving with his family to the new home he has constructed on Oakmont avenue in Santa Ana.

In addition to being attorney for Huntington Beach, Blodget is attorney for the joint highway district No. 15 of the state of California, which has charge of the construction of the Ortega highway.

PURSES STOLEN AT SANTA ANA PARTY

The return of Santa Ana's "party" burglar, was seen here Saturday night, when two purses were stolen from the home of Mrs. Charles Frazer, of 2017 Bush street, by a thief who operated while a card party was in progress.

Both purses were found yesterday morning in a yard next to the Frazer home. Both had been ransacked of small amounts of money they contained.

One of the purses was owned by Mrs. Frazer, the other by Mrs. R. L. Smith, a guest.

Guests reported they heard a noise in the bedroom about 11 o'clock. The burglary was not discovered until about midnight, when the guests started home. The thief ransacked a dresser in the room and left by way of a rear door.

Sergeant Elliott and Officer Hartley made an investigation of the burglary as soon as it was reported, but the thief probably had been gone an hour at that time, it was said.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES SATURDAY

Ebenezer Codling, 88, veteran of the Civil war and a resident of Santa Ana for the past 26 years, passed away on Saturday at his home, 624 North Van Ness street. Mr. Codling had been in poor health ever since his discharge from the army 56 years ago. He enlisted during the war in Company K, Iowa Infantry.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Nazarene church, Fifth and Barton streets, under the direction of Harrell and Brown. The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor, will officiate, and interment will be at the Fairhaven cemetery. Mr. Codling is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Codling, and by a son, Arthur B. Codling, of Los Angeles.

Forestry Tour To Take Place Friday

According to past performances Orange county residents may expect rain next Friday or shortly before that date.

The forestry tour, sponsored by the Orange County Forest Protective association, the Farm bureau and the extension service of the University of California, has been set for that date. This is the third date that has been selected for this trip over the Santa Ana mountains, the tour having to be postponed both times in the past because of rain that made the trails dangerous for the motor caravan to travel.

WALKATHON TEAMS FIGHT OFF SLEEP

There are but four couples left in the American Legion Walkathon contest today after more than 614 hours of continuous motion. It is believed that the contest will be over within the next few hours. With the four couples who remain putting up a game fight against their worst opponent, sleep, only through the utmost of effort and then many times losing the battle, running the risk of going to sleep at the same time that their partner does, dragging around the floor in their weary, some grind, stumbling, almost falling to the floor, again risking disqualification by falling twice in the same period, the contest is bound to be over very shortly.

The contestants themselves say that it seems impossible that they have gone as long as they have and they don't see how they can continue more than a few short hours longer. The exciting finish is very near, and with it so close the American Legion is preparing one of the nicest programs ever staged on a Monday night at the Walkathon. There are a number of specialties and novelty stunts planned, which will furnish the vehicle for much laughter and fun.

Duke Hall is still on the master of ceremonies stand in the evenings and late nights, and in the afternoon Earl "Nutzy" Fagan and Henry Shadder Polk are there to present a very interesting show to the visitors.

The local broadcasting station, KREG, is broadcasting the event still and there are three broadcasts a day.

Mills Is Awarded Judgment for $339

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel today rendered judgment in favor of George Mills in a lawsuit against the Wilson Dairy company, of Santa Ana, which resulted from an automobile accident about a year ago at First street and Bolsa road.

The judgment was for $339.43, covering the cost of repairing Mills' car and attorney fees. A dairy truck and the Mills car were involved in a collision, from which the damage suit grew.

Police News

Juan Alvarez, 25, and Nicholas Tiernaco, 25, of San Juan Capistrano, were arrested by sheriff's officers last night there on a charge of disturbing the peace. They were brought to the county jail.

Pete Altemerno, 62, of West First street, Santa Ana, was arrested for investigation by A. L. Steward, deputy sheriff, last night at 10:30 o'clock. The man was lodged in the county jail.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

Nearly Million Dollars Returned To Orange Growers

MAY 1930 BEST IN HISTORY OF LOCAL HOUSE

ORANGE, June 2.—Nearly a million dollars were the May returns of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, according to figures released by C. C. Hills, manager. Receipts for the current month were $886,790.

The figures for May break all May records for the Orange Exchange, according to Hills. The best previous May in the history of the organization was in 1928 when the receipts totaled $410,729.

Early shipments and an unusually high market were given as the reasons for the banner month. The receipts for the month just closed were just $14,000 short of the combined returns for the month of May of the last three years, exclusive of 1930.

Receipts for May, 1927, totaled $360,941, for May, 1928, $410,729 and for May, 1929, $128,369, making a combined total of $900,039 for the three years as against this May's record of $886,790.

Related valencia shipments due to Florida's fruit fly infestation resulted in the low mark for May last year, although subsequent months set a new all-time record for the full year with receipts totaling approximately $12,000,000.

ORANGE AUTOIST UPSETS OIL TANK

ORANGE, June 2.—The oil tanks at the T. J. Cummings service station, on the corner of Santiago boulevard and the old park road, were upset by a car driven by Rudolfo Aguayo at 10:30 p. m. Friday.

H. B. Hadley, a neighbor, heard the crash but the driver had disappeared when he arrived on the scene. The car was badly broken up.

PASTOR DELIVERS PATRIOTIC SPEECH

ORANGE, June 2.—A patriotic address was delivered by the Rev. E. H. Krefft, of Olive, at the district field day of the Walther Senior leagues Friday at the Anaheim municipal park. One thousand attended the field sports of tennis, baseball and athletic events during the day. Seventy-five to one hundred members of the St. John Walther league and their friends attended from Orange.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN CAMPBELLS

ORANGE, June 2.—Mrs. A. O. Farwell and Mrs. Jennie Conner gave Mr. Farwell a surprise on his birthday, Thursday. Friends gathered at the home of a neighbor and came in a body to the home of the Farwells at 166 North Cambridge street. Cootie was played during the evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fenn Field, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ralls, Jean Lightfall, Dan Mahrony, Mrs. Sadie Sweet and Miss Nellie White.

Members attending from Orange were Mesdames Florence Merriam, Mabel Haines, Rebecca Baier, Gladys McDonald, Sadie Hanger, Anna Slater, Sarah Tabor, Lillian Westerman, Mabel Lee, Theresa Lee.

FOOTBALL STAR IS SPEAKER AT SUNDAY SCHOOL

ORANGE, June 2.—George Warner, Santa Ana Junior College student and son of the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, delivered an address on "Eternity" at the morning service of the Christian church Sunday school.

A particularly attractive program was arranged and attended by a large number of the young people of the Christian church and many students from the high school. The program was planned and carried out by the high school department of the Sunday school, under the able direction of Mrs. D. G. Wetlin.

Young Warner's address was well received and he was the object of numerous congratulations at the close of the services. Warner, in addition to being a football star, is president this year of the Santa Ana Junior College student body.

One of the features of the program was a solo by Walter Workman of Orange. Another feature was a group of musical selections by several of the younger members of the department.

S. A. V. I. RAISES WATER PRICES ON 100 INCHES

ORANGE, June 2.—Water for irrigating from the S. A. V. I. was raised to $1.00 for 100 inches an hour. The full flow of the river is now going into the ditches. Later in the season, when it is necessary to use water that is pumped, the price will be raised again.

The S. A. V. I. company began to drill a well in February on East La Vista avenue, a quarter of a mile east of Tustin street, on the Jacob Kruger ranch. The well is 900 feet deep with 360 feet of water in a 26 inch casing. A Layne and Bowler pump has been installed and began work Saturday, pumping 125 inches in a steady flow. The company hopes to increase the flow to 250 inches.

GRAND LECTURER OF MASONS TALKS

ORANGE, June 2.—"Analysis of the Masonic Degree in its Relationship to the Bible" was the subject of the address given by Mr. Temple, past grand lecturer of Iowa, before the Orange county Masonic club held at La Habra. Miss Quila McGullock has been the manager in the present location and she will now become the owner in the new location.

PASTORS OF ALL CHURCHES IN ORANGE PREACH ON SAME SUBJECT IN SUNDAY SERMONS

Orange churches yesterday were well filled for the pre-Pentecost services in which churches of the community united in sermon subjects in accordance with a national plan to center thought on an observance of the 1900th Pentecost next Sunday, which will generate a great spiritual revival throughout the nation.

The pastors are planning to present the subject "Pentecost, the Birthday of the Church" at the morning services next Sunday, while those churches which observe the Lord's Supper are planning on a union communion service next Sunday evening. Great interest is being manifest in the plans for this event.

The subject yesterday morning on which the eight churches of the community united was "The Meaning of Church Membership." This sermon subject was presented by the pastors of the following churches: Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian, First Christian, Baptist, Mennonite and Episcopalian, of Orange, Villa Park Congregational church and the El Modena Friends church.

Dr. Franklin Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church, in the course of his sermon, said in part:

"Ministers and laymen have stressed 'How a person can become a member of the church.' We have been negligent in our equal duty to stress the deepest meaning of church membership. We have held the front door open, but haven't closed the back door of church membership. Thus many have slipped away from Christ after they turned to Him. 'Church membership has been judged by the externals too much. These are necessary, but they are secondary. Thus if a man has his name on the church roll, we say he is a member. If he attends and is active, if he attends and sup-

BREAKFAST TO ORANGE COUPLE HELD SATURDAY

ORANGE, June 2.—A farewell breakfast was given by Mrs. Sadie Hanger, of 628 South Orange street, Saturday, honoring Mrs. Anna Slater and her son, George, who are leaving for a trip east.

The dining room was decorated with yellow coreopsis and lavender stocks, with a beautiful centerpiece on the table. The yellow and orchid color scheme was carried out through the breakfast. A three course breakfast was served at 9 o'clock by the hostess. Plates were laid for 12. Elva Frye, daughter of the hostess, assisted in serving the breakfast.

One of the guests expressed the sentiments of the party in verse. Good bye! Good luck! Have a bully time.

But even though the view's sublime;

Though the eats are great And the folks your style— Think of your old M. N. O's Once in a while.

We wish we were going, too; But, doggone it We'd like to be a baggage tag With nothing else to do But dangle from a suitcase And tag along with you.

But check your troubles every one; Get your share of joy and fun; Wear your smile and be a sport, And come back safe to this port.

The last minute instructions given to the travelers were: Of course in your travels you'll cut quite a dash but be sure and keep the grasshoppers out of your son's mustache. Wherever you go or wherever you are seen you must be careful to keep your nose clean. Be sure and drive carefully. Don't drink too many steins, for we should all feel sad to read these lines: "Buried deep in the corn and tatoes, Alas! Here lies what is left of the Slaters."

Though we will wish you joy while you are traveling around, We'll be mighty glad when you are homeward bound."

SURPRISE PARTY HONORS BIRTHDAY

ORANGE, June 2.—A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell, of 840 North Shaffer street, Friday, by the Intermediate Christian Endeavor of the Christian church. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. White were the adult leaders for the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were absent from home when the young people arrived and were pleasantly surprised upon their return. Howland and Davis gave some selections on the harmonica and a piano selection. Abonfire was built in the yard and a wienie roast was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell served cake and candy.

Those of the party were Eleanor Hilhard, Eleanor Duvall, Dorothy Cooke, Margaret Todd, Gladys Wagers, Alene Wing, Vivian Pauline Ivans, Lorena Neal, David Wetlin, Howard Davis, Miller White, James Simpson, Marie Vicens.

Murder Backstairs

©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC. FICTION by ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE CRIME: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body, rock-weighted and tied with scarf, is dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeley.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, house guest and discoverer of body at sunrise swimming party; Captain Strawn of the Homicide Squad, and the bathroom.

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSEHOLD: All under Berkeley's eye, Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley, who were engaged late Friday night over their daughter's engagement to Seymour Crosby of New York, close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's secretary, Mrs. Lambert; Gigi Berkeley, who unaccountably sprinkled all persons in the drawing room Friday night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to Mrs. Berkeley and later used as murder weapon; Dick Berkeley, who, after having been missing all night, turns up while his mother is accusing Eugene Arnold, chauffeur, of having murdered him as well as the girl; WICKETT, butler, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Strawn and Dundee check Dick's story that he spent the night in the tower room of the house. Returning to their questioning of Mrs. Berkeley, they hear from her that she never saw her maid after 7:15 Friday night. To Strawn's amazement Dundee suddenly asks Mrs. Berkeley: "Did you so approve of your appearance after Doris had finished her work that you leaned toward the mirror and kissed your own reflection?"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

"Really, Mr. Dundee," Mrs. Berkeley cried furiously. "This is too much! The very idea of asking me if I kissed myself in the mirror! I never did such a silly thing in my life."

"Then may I ask, Mrs. Berkeley, if when you were using the mirror, you noticed upon its surface the print of rouged lips?" Dundee persisted.

"Certainly not! I've told you the mirror was spotless!"

"What are you driving at, Dundee?" Captain Strawn demanded, sorely puzzled.

"I'll show you! Step into the bathroom with me, sir."

They left Mrs. Berkeley talking excitedly in a low tone to her husband, and passed into the bath which lay between the sitting room and the bedroom.

"Looks like a movie set, don't it?" Strawn chuckled, as his keen eyes took in the orchid-and-green magnificence, "Sunken tub, shower cabinet, towels big enough for blankets—Lord! What a dressing table! Enough cosmetics here to stock a shop," he added, his glance sweeping over the array of orchid and pale green crystal jars and bottles lined about the wide top of the dressing table, in the center of which a basin was sunk.

"See that, Chief?" And Dundee pointed to a Cupid's bow of bright-rouge clearly defined near the bottom of the beveled, frameless mirror swung above the low dressing-table. A nearly perfect Cupid's bow, except for the fact that the print was slightly smudged downward.

"Well, I'll be darned!" Strawn whispered, but Dundee was too busy. He was uncrowning the cap of a tiny green crystal jar.

"Mrs. Berkeley's lip rouge," he explained, showing the dark-red salve. "And Doris's," he added, again opening the little silver tube of lipstick which the dead girl's compact had contained.

Not satisfied with comparing the color of the smudge on the glass with Doris's lipstick, he bent close to sniff the mirrored sample, then held the little tube to his nose.

"It's the same, chief. That print on the mirror was made by Doris Matthews!"

"Well, now we're getting somewhere!" Captain Strawn ejaculated, with high satisfaction.

"Maybe," Dundee agreed, and they returned to the bedroom.

"Now, Mrs. Berkeley," he began, when he had resumed seat and notepad. "Will you please tell me whether Doris was permitted to use lipstick while on duty?"

"Certainly not!" Mrs. Berkeley answered emphatically.

"And was Doris still in your room when you went down to dinner?"

"She considered for a moment, then brightened. 'No, I'd kept her longer than I expected, and just as I was nearly ready to go down I had a call on the house phone. We have an inter-communicating system, you know, so that we can telephone to almost any room in the house, just by pushing little buttons—'

"Yes? So Doris went to assist Miss Berkeley?"

"Yes, immediately, before I left my room."

"And would Doris have returned to this room later for any reason?"

"Why, of course! To lay out my night things and turn down the covers."

"She could have attended to these duties as early as she pleased?"

"Why, certainly, since I had told her I would not need her to help me get ready for bed," Mrs. Berkeley answered, casting an uneasy glance at her husband.

"Now, Mrs. Berkeley, may I ask when you came up to bed?"

"Let me see...." "Hm." Natural color mingled with and mottled the heavy coating of rouge on her cheeks. "I'd say it was about 20 minutes to 12, wouldn't you, George?" she appealed to her husband.

He nodded, his lips tightening.

"On coming upstairs, Mrs. Berkeley, did you see anyone—hear anything?"

"Oh, no! Not a sound!" she assured him eagerly. "The house was quiet as the grave!" Then she uttered a little scream as she realized what word she had used. "Oh! I simply can't realize—"

"And you, Mr. Berkeley?" Dundee turned to his host.

"Not a sound! I went directly to my room, saying good night to my wife in the hall. My room occupies the northwest corner of the second floor."

"And did either of you hear anything later? Any footsteps?"

"No!" husband and wife answered in unison.

"The sound of the limousine returning?" Dundee persisted.

"And again they both answered 'No!'"

"Did you hear the car return before you went upstairs?"

"I didn't notice," Berkeley answered, and his wife: "Neither did I, but of course Arnold would have taken the car directly to the garage from the gates, not coming anywhere near the front of the house."

"Right!" Dundee agreed. Then, "You went immediately to bed, Mrs. Berkeley?"

"I was very tired, and I had a terrific headache, so I just took a bromide tablet and went right to bed."

"Isn't it rather unusual for you to go to bed without removing your make-up and applying skin cream?" Dundee asked quietly.

"Oh! Her hands flew to her heavily coated cheeks. 'I—yes, it is unusual, but I was very tired. And upset over your conference with your husband?' Dundee supplied, with deceptive gentleness.

"You forget yourself, Mr. Dundee!" she rebuked him angrily. "That has nothing at all to do with—with poor little Doris's death."

"But the subject of that conference—Mr. Seymour Crosby—knew Doris Matthews quite well, I believe. I heard him say last night that he was eager to see her again—"

"Stop, Mr. Dundee!" Mrs. Berkeley cried melodramatically. "I won't permit you to insinuate vile things against the man my daughter is going to marry!"

"Whom our daughter is not going to marry!" George Berkeley cut in sternly. "Captain Strawn, the reporters will inevitably be swarming over the place, and I shall be greatly obliged if you will not refer to Mr. Seymour Crosby as my daughter's fiancé.... Mr. Dundee is right. My wife and I had a long—conference last night, after bidding you good night, and I made it quite clear then that no engagement would be announced at the party which was to have taken place this evening."

"I don't see why we can't have the party," Mrs. Berkeley protested angrily. "Just because a maid is dead—"

"Murdered, Mrs. Berkeley!" Captain Strawn reminded her grimly. "Murdered! And because of the peculiar nature of the case I must tell you now that every person who was in this house last night is a suspect until the real murderer is under arrest."

"Oh, oh!" she moaned. "Then will you please hurry and finish your horrid questions? I'll have to spend the whole day telephoning, calling off my poor party—"

"The newspapers will do that for you very successfully, Mrs. Berkeley," Captain Strawn assured her. "There will be extras before noon, and the regular afternoon sheets will be glad to carry a formal announcement from you. Anything else, Dundee?"

"Just one or two things more.... Mrs. Berkeley, when you came to your room about 20 minutes to 12, did you use your bathroom dressing-table at all?"

The shamed flush deepened on the woman's cheeks. "Why, no, I didn't think I did. There's a thermometer of ice water on my bedside table and I keep the bromide tablets in a little drawer in the table. In fact, I took the tablet after I got into bed."

"No, I don't remember even glancing toward it."

"But you did miss the flask of perfume Mr. Crosby had given you?" Dundee asked quickly.

"I—yes, I did look about for it. Just glanced at the bathroom dressing table and at the vanity dresser in this room, looking for it."

"And could not find it?"

"No, I was furious with Wickett for having disobeyed me. I gave it to him after—" she floundered and flushed, recalling the shameful scene which had ended in her slapping Gigi's face before her guests—"a few minutes after Mr. Crosby gave it to me, and told him to take it up to my rooms. That was when you were telephoning," she explained.

"You found that Doris had been here to lay out your things and prepare the bed for the night?"

"Oh, yes. Everything was exactly as usual," she assured him eagerly.

"Mrs. Berkeley, I'll ask you again: was Doris Matthews in this room or in any of your three rooms when you came up to bed?"

"No! How dare you doubt my word?" she cried furiously.

"And you did not see her or speak to her again after she left you to help your daughter dress?"

"No, I didn't!"

"Abbie, this is no time for—evasions or—lapses of memory," her husband cut in. "Please tell these gentlemen the truth!"

EMPLOYEES OF HOLLY COMPANIES PICNIC

Employees of the Holly Sugar company and the Holly Oil company and their families Saturday enjoyed the third annual picnic of the two companies, held at Irvine park.

It was an all day affair, with a program of sports providing entertainment for the 300 men, women and children present.

A barbecued steak dinner, prepared by W. K. Duffy, was served at noon.

One of the features of the afternoon was a baseball game between teams representing the sugar company and the oil company, the latter winning by a safe margin.

Dinner at 6 p.m. concluded the day's outing. Robert Daniels, superintendent of the sugar plant at Dyer, was master of ceremonies.

A daily average of 2,185,000 local telephone calls were made in 1929 over the Bell lines in the state of New Jersey, as compared with 1,976,000 such calls for the average day of 1928.

BOYS' BAND WILL ATTEND CONCLAVE

The Holders Boys' band of Santa Ana is to take part in the annual convention of the Holders Boys' bands at Recreation park, Long Beach, June 8.

Two hundred boy musicians are to stage the big event, as the bands attending the convention will be the boys' bands of Glendale, Whittier, Huntington Park, Cypress, Santa Ana and Long Beach, all of which are under the direction of J. F. Holder.

The program starts at 9 a. m. and a full day has been planned, including picnic dinner. Aside from the musical training of the Santa Ana band they also have a baseball team which bids fair to win the pennant. The Santa Ana band meets each Friday at 5 p. m. in the American Legion auditorium for rehearsal and, although they have only been organized a few weeks, have the following membership: George Starkey, James Haynes, Ira Damerell, Ernest Horton, Will Horton, Ralph Wheeler, Rex S. Keel, Franklyn Munselle, Orlando Spalazar, Walter Hendrie, Arthur Hooker Jr., Donald Driest, Bruce Mayhugh, Harold Coe and Ross Holly.

NOTED PICTURE ON DISPLAY AT HORTON STORE

Valued at $85,000, and commanding the highest price ever paid for a picture painted in America, "The Old Timers—the Smith and His Smithy," by Paul Mersereau, will be placed on exhibit tomorrow in the new Horton Furniture store following its formal opening this afternoon and tonight, to the general public.

"The Old Timers" is a large canvas of the genre school, and is owned by Paul R. Fontaine of Shreveport, La., together with over 30 others equally beautiful and valuable, and of the modern French school. Mersereau, who is now in the Wasatch mountains painting, will spend the summer in the Yosemite valley, following his chosen career, according to Fontaine, who was in this city late last week completing preparations for the display of the canvas here.

Fontaine was intensely interested in the opening of the new furniture store, for he has known J. C. Horton for many years, and has exhibited his paintings in the store on various occasions since 1918.

"It is gratifying to see a store with such a policy as that of the Horton Furniture store, keep pace with the growth of the community, and meet the needs of that community in such a fashion."

"In pursuance of a custom inaugurated long ago, to bring to Santa Ana, internationally famous masterpieces of the painter's art, this store has secured for a limited showing, an art treasure possessed of a historic value aside from its value as a painting. The coming of the automobile and the passing of the horse make the picture of special significance, depicting an era of which the present generation knows very little."

"The picture is reminiscent of the old days when children coming home from school, looked in at the open door. They looked to see the flaming sparks and hear the bellows roar." This particular painting had its incentive in a casual glimpse that Mersereau had of an abandoned shop with idle forge. He obtained permission to transfer the scene to canvas, and was successful in finding an aged blacksmith who had worked at his forge for 50 years.

"Patriarchal in appearance, when he had donned his abandoned leather apron and picked up the tools of his trade, he fitted into the setting so perfectly, that the artist painted him in the first pose he assumed. "And so we have finished painting, 'The Old Timers,' and every man, woman and child in the vicinity of Santa Ana, should make it a point to see the picture during the limited time it will be at Horton's store, installed on the second floor, properly lighted and hung it is a sight to be remembered for its memories of a vanished age."

Fontaine pointed out also that the picture was on display for everyone to see with no charges whatever. It will be shown in 29 California cities during the summer months, and then will be exhibited in other communities of the United States and Canada.

JUSTICE MARKS SEEKS PAPERS ON NOMINATION

Among the candidates who entered applications with County Clerk J. M. Backs for nomination papers on Saturday, was Associate Justice E. J. Marks, Santa Ana jurist, who is on the bench of the fourth district court of appeals. Justice Marks is a candidate for election of office No. 1 of the court. Judge Lucy Jennings, of San Diego, is candidate for office No. 2 and Justice Charles Barnard, of San Bernardino, is candidate for presiding justice. Justice Marks said today that there was no opposition to the candidacy for these offices. B. Z. McKinney is verification deputy named by Marks to circulate the papers in the county for signatures of sponsors.

Other candidates who took out papers today are Charles D. Brown, of Tustin, candidate for reelection as coroner and public administrator; W. K. Hillyard, of Santa Ana, candidate for reelection as county surveyor; W. R. "Big Bill" Sylvester, of Orange, candidate for sheriff; and Harry A. Chamberlain, of Los Angeles, candidate for Lieutenant-governor. Chamberlain has appointed J. P. Smith as his verification deputy to secure the names of three sponsors in Orange county. Sylvester's deputy is E. R. Roehm. J. Lloyd is deputy for Hillyard. Complete papers were filed today by John C. Mitchell, of Garden Grove, candidate for reelection as supervisors from the second district, and his deputy, Wells W. Dungan. Hillyard and J. W. Sauers, of Tustin, candidate for supervisor from the fifth district, also filed complete papers. Justice Whitney, county recorder, took out papers, late Thursday, naming R. C. Mize as verification deputy.

Pleads Guilty To Liquor Accusation

Charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, A. R. Bailey, 38, a carpenter of Buena Park, was fined $500 in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning when he pleaded guilty to the charge.

He was arrested by sheriff's officers last night when four pints of alcohol, a quart of brandy and several bottles of beer were said to have been found in his home.

Officers Carter, Humiston, Thornhill and Snodgrass made the raid on Bailey's home.

CHANGE IN MAIL SCHEDULE TOLD

New schedules in southbound mails went into effect Saturday at the post office. Mail formerly arriving here at 10:45 p. m., comes in at 10:15 p. m., while mail leaving here for southern points is scheduled at 9:30 p. m. instead of at the old time of 10:40 p. m.

Two new dead lines are in effect, one for afternoon mail, which is now at 2:30 p. m. instead of at 7:30 p. m., and the other at 6 p. m. instead of at 7:30 p. m.

The arrival of special delivery letters at 7:15 p. m. is expected to be exceptionally satisfactory to better service, for delivery will be made immediately following receipt of the mail.

Builders To Hold Meet Tomorrow

The Orange County Builders exchange will meet at 6:30 p. m., tomorrow, at the headquarters of the Foster Sand and Gravel company, 524 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton, it was announced today by Frederic Sanford, manager.

A barbecued steak dinner will precede the business session. The manager stated that A. L. Foster and J. Babcock have arranged a program that will be highly pleasing to the large group expected to be present.

R. C. McMillan, president, will preside, and C. M. Gilbert will officiate as program chairman.

The caterpillar of the Pandora moth is considered a great delicacy by the Mono and Piute Indian tribes in Nevada. It is baked in hot ashes, after which it is dried and put away to be served later on in stews.

We Are Building an Institution in Radio

At the General Motors Radio Corporation we have laid the foundation of a permanent, progressive business—and on this groundwork we are already raising the structure of an institution with ideals and ambitions quite different from those the radio industry has known. The men who represent us to you—our dealers—have met requirements which establish them, beyond doubt, as trustworthy, reputable merchants. Our product is distinctive in its design, in its appearance and in the way it performs. It reflects, we believe, the extraordinary value that our resources and our experience and our manufacturing abilities help us to create. We want you to prefer this product... and to base your preference as much on your confidence in the dealer who sells it and in us who make it, as on your appraisal of the product itself.

The General Motors Radio Corporation has entered the radio field providing more for you as a radio buyer than had previously been offered. Some of the ablest engineers in the radio industry have designed a chassis capable of truly exceptional performance. The Tone Selector gives you actual mastery of tone, with the turn of a knob. General Motors' vast experience in precision methods has created for you, at a moderate price, a product of exceptionally high quality—and one that is dependable and lasting.

The same consideration for the buyer is evident in our policy regarding cabinets. In appearance, the models of the new General Motors Radio are admirable adaptations of authentic period furniture. And in order that you may consider them as permanent possessions—as you would any example of fine cabinetwork—we shall design any future chassis or speaker so that it may be installed in these present cabinets, and you can always enjoy the latest thing in radio at the lowest possible cost.

We have developed these fine instruments... established a reputable, responsible organization of exclusive dealers... instituted national service... pledged ourselves to progressive manufacturing policies and conservative business principles—all, that you may find in radio the same assurance of value, of permanence and of fair-dealing that "Product of General Motors" has come to mean in other fields.

We ask you to judge the sincerity of our purpose and the value of our product by calling on the authorized General Motors Radio dealer in your community. His name appears below.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

'OBEDIENCE TO CLASS TEACHER VISION' TOPIC GIVES TALK ON OF REV. HARLOW 'IMMORTALITY'

At the First United Brethren church the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor, spoke yesterday on the topic: "Obedience to the Heavenly Vision." "The wise man Solomon said, 'Where there is no vision, the people perish,' he began, 'And Paul said, 'I was not disobedient to the Heavenly vision.'"

"The men of long ago dreamed their dreams and saw their visions. And truly they were a glorious company: Abraham, Joseph, Jacob, Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel. Each one of these old-time dreamers saw wide-spreading vistas of splendid opportunity. And the visions of the book of Daniel are yet pregnant in history today, for since that time great nations have arisen and fallen and yet the visions are incomplete.

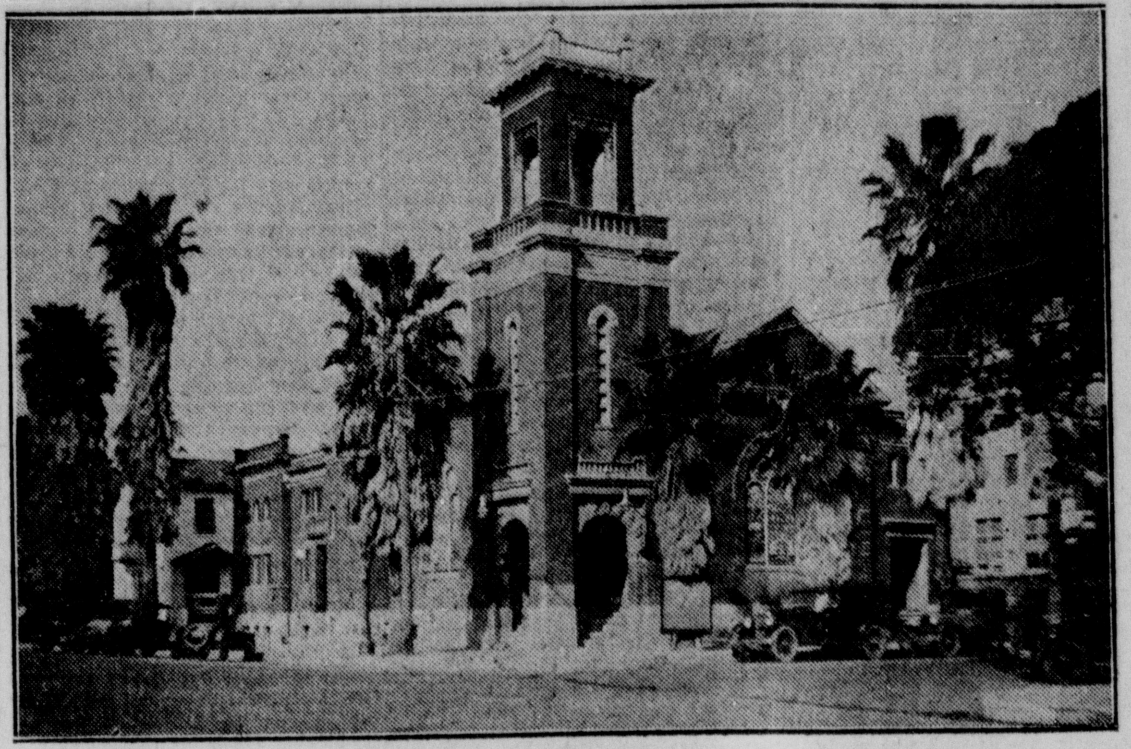

"Columbus had a vision of a world which was a sphere. On the call of that dream he launched out on the mighty Atlantic to find other shores on this globe, and he found them. Raphael, too, had his vision. Beautiful pictures were in his heart and mind, and he has left them on canvas unsurpassed by any artist.

"Paul had a vision of Jesus Christ on his way to Damascus and that vision changed his whole life. Otterbein and Wesley had a vision of God and the possibilities of His kingdom in the world, and as a result we have two great churches, the United Brethren in Christ and the Methodist Episcopal.

"The vision always comes to inspire us. Who can stand on the top of the cliff of the Grand canyon and not be inspired by the beauties of nature? Who could view the Christ of God, as Isaiah view him and not say as he did, 'Here am I, send me.' If you really see Him as the apostle saw Him in the quickening and anointing power of the Holy spirit, you will never be the same again. It will change your whole career in life completely.

This vision calls for instant obedience. Paul was not disobedient to the Heavenly Vision. At once, Paul left home, kindred, country, earthly ambitions, everything, to lay his whole life at the feet of the Christ, to be used to His glory. Yes, the vision calls for an immediate answer."

SPURGEON MEMORIAL CHURCH

PARTING WORDS OF GREAT MEN SERMON TOPIC

The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, spoke Sunday evening on "Last Words of Great and Good Men." He said in part:

"You can count on the last words because we weigh them. We may use idle words and say many words, but when we know that we have only a few more to utter we consider them and mean every one of them.

"These were the last words of a dying King to his son, on whose frail shoulders the responsibility of the kingdom was soon to rest. He might have talked to him of standing armies, greater navy economies. Or he might have talked to him of literature and art. He was well versed on this line, but he did not. He told the lad to know God. He knew that if this young king would know God all else would be added.

"He did not say serve Him to know Him, but know Him and then serve Him. He did not refer him to someone else as an example to follow. It is sad indeed when a parent has to advise his children to follow someone else's example. He said, 'Know thou the God of thy Father.'"

"Children are going to follow in the steps of their parents. My father bought raw timber, ran saw mills and drove oxen. My little brother and I had saw mills all over my father's farm and every old broom handle we could get was forced into service as an ox to work for us. David could talk to his son about his soul. Fathers and mothers can you? Do you know it is the most important matter confronting your children today?

"I remember of reading of a man who was climbing a steep in Scotland one day, and hearing a voice behind him, looked and beheld his own little son following him. He was calling to his father, saying, 'Take the safest path father, for I am coming after you.' And so they are today.

"Paul talked of death as he would on leaving for a journey. Wesley stated concerning the early Methodists, 'Our people die well.' Death will test your foundation. Infidelity may do to talk about in the sunshine, but when the shadows of age and death creep upon us it weakens."

gether here as men are urged to be on the lookout for opportunities to help their fellows in distress and to use their talents for this purpose in order that 'even the least of these' may not go hungry or remain in dire need. We do not need to look far to see how much the teaching is still needed in our own day."

Southern Methodist Church Development Told

The Southern Methodist church was organized in Santa Ana in December, 1889, in the home of W. H. Titchenal, on what is now Fourth street, between Main and Sycamore streets. A building was erected in 1876 and was dedicated by Bishop Marvin in October of that year. It was constructed of wood and cost $2000. A parsonage for the residence of the pastor also was built at a cost of $500. This information comes from "History of Los Angeles County," published in 1880.

Later William Spurgeon, founder and benefactor of Santa Ana, donated land for the erection of a larger and more pretentious building. In 1905 this work was completed, very largely under the ministry of the Rev. George S. Clark. Other pastors followed and the debt on the building was paid and the mortgage on the property was lifted under the ministry of the Rev. Mr. Stem. The new building stands on the corner of North Broadway and Church street. A beautiful pipe organ was later donated by Mr. Spurgeon to the church and is still in use.

Last year the need for additional room for the church school was so great that the Quarterly Conference appointed a building committee composed of L. A. West, chairman; Lester Slaback, secretary; S. W. Todd, Thomas J. Hunter, E. C. Martin, F. E. Farnsworth, and John Jennie Spurgeon, and ordered that plans be drawn for a house sufficiently modern and with room to accommodate the departments of the school, which for three years had been housed in the Y. A building through the courtesy of the board of directors and the secretary, Ralph Smedley. It was necessary to move the parsonage building from the lot north of the church for this purpose.

In July the building was begun under the direction of Frederick Eley, architect, and R. C. McMillan, contractor. In December the building was completed and on the Sunday before Christmas was occupied by the following departments of the church school: Cradle roll, Mrs. George Wright superintendent; beginners under the direction of Mrs. Walter Fine; primary, Mrs. George Wright, superintendent; junior, Mrs. C. W. McNaught, superintendent.

EVANGELIST TALKS TO LARGE CROWDS

The Rev. H. Robb French, of Birmingham, Alabama, who is conducting revival services at the First Free Methodist church, Fruit and Minter streets, spoke three times to good crowds, yesterday. He preached a very impressive sermon last night on "The Worth of a Soul" and a number knelt at the altar to pray.

One of the features of afternoon service was the singing of a southern melody by the Rev. and Mrs. French and the Rev. and Mrs. Reynolds. This was repeated last night upon request. It was announced that another one would be sung tonight.

Large crowds are expected at the all day meeting which will be held tomorrow. Neighboring churches will unite in the services which are to be held at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:40 p. m. Rev. C. L. Howland, of Whittier will preach at one of the services.

The meetings will continue all this week and next.

dent; intermediate, Miss Vena Jones, superintendent; senior young people, Mrs. Moffett Rhodes, counselor. The new building, known fittingly as the House of Youth, is the first of a three unit church plant.

The following have been pastors of the church: A. Groves, J. E. Miller, L. A. Smith, H. W. Featherston, Thomas R. Curtis, George E. Butler, M. F. Grove, Edgar Dunbar, R. Pratt, W. H. Klyce, A. Adams, R. H. Parker, Fitzgerald S. Parker, Pressly B. Smith, Q. A. Oats, J. B. Johnson, P. B. Jackson, S. H. Dimon, J. G. Finley, James Healey, D. F. Fuller, R. A. Rowland, S. W. Walker, Charles W. Hoag, Wade Hamilton, George S. Clark, Rev. Mr. Douglas, W. R. Thornton, Rev. Mr. Scarborough, Rev. Mr. Stem, A. T. Orear, J. W. Wallace, William J. Richards, and the present pastor, Moffett Rhodes.

The church has grown steadily in numbers and in influence in the city until at the present time it is rated as one of the leading churches in Santa Ana. The present pastor is closing his eighth year in the pastorate of the church.

BEACH PASTOR TELLS MEANING OF PENTECOST

Speaking on the meaning of Pentecost and using an old definition of religion, the Rev. John M. Barnhart preached an interesting sermon yesterday morning to his congregation in the First Methodist church in Huntington Beach.

"Religion is the life of God in the soul of man," is an ancient definition that is hard to improve upon," he said. "The organized church is the outward instrument divinely ordered to quicken and augment that life and help the individuals to express that life in terms of human relationships.

"There is no magic in the rites, rituals and creeds of the church by the observance of which its members may be guaranteed fellowship with God here, or eternal life hereafter. The receiving of the Holy Spirit, which is another way of speaking of the life of God in the soul of man, has always depended upon man's attitude toward God.

"Our New Testament requires 'Repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.' Acts 20:21.

"Pentecost of which we hear so much these days means an experience of the Apostles and others in the first century of the Christian era, which resulted in greatly augmenting the life of God in those first followers of our Lord. They were so marvelously quickened that it is not inappropriate to speak of that event as the birthday of the Christian church.

"It will be a pity if the modern church merely celebrates Pente-

EVANGELIST OF POMONA HOLDS MEETING HERE

Evangelist A. C. Williams, of Pomona, began an evangelistic meeting with the Southside Church of Christ, located at the corner of Fairview and Birch streets, at the evening service last night. Williams spoke on the subject, "Where Is He?" based on the question asked by the Jews at the feast of Tabernacles. Williams said in part:

"The question has been asked by those who hate Jesus. Ever since he world began there have been those who hated righteousness sufficiently to slay those who live righteously. We see this illustrated in King Herod who asked this question with the object of slaying Christ.

"This question has been asked by those who are fearful. In the hour of death those who have lived in sin often ask this question with fear and trembling.

"This question is also asked by those desiring communion and fellowship with Christ. Those who love Him ask in the spirit of earnest desire. This type is illustrated by the wise men who came from the East desiring to see Him who was to be the world's Savior.

"The question has been asked by the sinner. He finds the answer in the Bible.

The meetings are to continue for the next two weeks.

PENTECOST IS SERMON TOPIC OF REV. SEWELL

"Pentecost" was the subject of the Rev. James H. Sewell's discourse at the Broadway and Walnut street Church of Christ Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Sewell read a portion of the second chapter of Acts of Apostles, and among other things said:

"Much is said just now about Pentecost, and all of us—especially all Christians—should know what the day Pentecost nineteen hundred years ago, means to the church. Pentecost was, and is, a Jewish festival, called 'The Feast of Weeks,' coming fifty days after the Passover Sabbath. On the first day of Pentecost, after the resurrection of Christ, His church was established.

"John the Baptist had started the work of preparing material for the church, and Jesus, during His personal ministry here, continued that work. The church, however, was not established previous to His death and resurrection, nor during the forty days He spent on earth with His disciples after His resurrection. Just before His ascension He instructed His disciples to tarry in Jerusalem till they should be ordained with the power from on high.

"One week after His ascension, 'when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place, when with the sound as of a rushing, mighty wind, the Holy Spirit descended and took His abode in the material prepared for that purpose—in the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ—and the church of Christ was then and there established, and the apostles began immediately to proclaim Christ to the multitude that quickly gathered to learn what that miraculous demonstration meant.

"Peter preached Christ to the people and convinced many of his hearers that they had crucified the Son of God, and in answer to their question, 'What must we do?' he told those believers to repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins. Three thousand were then added to the church that had just been established on that notable day of Pentecost, the greatest day in the world's history."

THREE WAYS TO LIVE PICTURED BY S. A. PASTOR

"Jesus was a keen observer of human life," said the Rev. Harry Evan Owings of the First Baptist church at the evening service yesterday, "and directed His teachings to meet the needs of the people of His day. How often He uncovered tendencies and traits that men scarcely recognized themselves as being inimical to their best welfare and even destructive in their effect. These counsels He frequently put into story form that they might be grasped more clearly. And with His tendency to group incidents, parables and teachings Matthew combines three of the most telling stories in the twenty-fifth chapter.

"One story is that of the ten virgins, five of whom were alert and watchful, and five of whom were careless and harum-scarum. Here we have pictured the difference between those who are 'on their toes,' as we say, ready to seize every opportunity, never caught off guard or unprepared when the best chances of life come along. 'Be ever watchful,' the Master would say. 'Opportunities are within your grasp. Be on the lookout and always be prepared when the chance comes.' It is what some one has called the policy of 'spare tires,' always ready.

"The second story is that of the men with certain talents as their trust. And here Jesus was warning the men of His day to be sure to be faithful in the use of their God-entrusted powers. Men are never to forget that they are trustees of the powers and possessions they have and are to recognize the necessity of being trustworthy and diligent.

"The third story is that of kindly dealing with one's fellows as contrasted with neglect of them and unconcern about their misfortunes. All three truths are brought to-

Leaves For Scotland And Is Honored At Party

A recent interesting event was given in the Panorama Heights home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Burke when Miss Ruby Blair, who left yesterday for Scotland was the guest of honor.

The evening was spent in playing bunks and prizes went first, to Mrs. J. Planchon and to James Douglas and the consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Alan Calderwood.

Miss Blair who came here about eight months ago from New Zealand will go to Airdrie, Scotland, to visit her father. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Andrew Turnbull, 408 South Flower street, who has journeyed to that country three times in the past 22 years to see her parents. When Miss Blair returns next fall, she will be met at Detroit, Mich., by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of this city.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Calderwood and daughter, Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas and Arthur Ritchie of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. J. Planchon, Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips, Miss Nan Blair and the honor guest, Miss Ruby Blair.

Great Diva to Sing At Anaheim Concert On June 4

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, world famous contralto, will sing at a benefit concert to be given at the Anaheim amphitheater June 4 at 8 o'clock, in company with George Stinson, state traffic officer, member of the American Legion and protégé of the great diva. The concert which will be given by the American Legion, will be one of the major events of the Legion year.

The program promises to be a notable one and the glorious voice of the prima donna will be heard for the first time in Orange county and fittingly enough in a concert with a young singer she considers as the coming greatest tenor of the world.

Praises Stinson

Madame Schumann-Heink said recently on hearing Stinson sing, "There is no voice in the world like that; voices like that are born, not made."

It is particularly appropriate that Schumann-Heink should appear on a program with an American Legion program with an American Legionnaire, as she is the idol of members of Legion posts throughout the nation, who lovingly call her "mother."

A mother herself, the great diva has taken a keen interest in the welfare of "her boys." At a concert given in Huntington, West Virginia, Schumann-Heink said, "I never sing now without at least one song to remind people of our heroes—your sons—and one of my own who gave their lives during the war of our country. I will sing 'Danny Boy' and 'Taps' for you—and for myself, too."

Though the first time the diva has sung in Orange county, it is not the first time by some hundreds of occasions when she has appeared in connection with an American Legion event. Since the dark days of the World War, her interest in the legionnaires has never faltered. They are her boys—she is their mother.

DIVA TO SING IN CONCERT

Madame Schumann-Heink, world famous contralto, will sing at a benefit concert to be given at the Anaheim amphitheater June 4. The great diva will appear on a program with George Stinson, state traffic officer of this city, whom she has declared has the greatest tenor voice in the world.

Steak Dinner Given For Departing Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kehoe of Hollywood, were honor guests yesterday at a barbecue steak dinner at Irvine park, arranged by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Castler, as a farewell.

The honorees have been residing in Hollywood for six months and will depart Wednesday for their home at Schenectady, N. Y. The steaks were prepared by Mr. Castler and G. W. Young.

Those forming the dinner group were Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe, Mr. and Mrs. Castler, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. West, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Fine and Mrs. Cline, of San Fernando; Mrs. Olive Lopez, Miss Isabel Lopez, Mrs. Jane Wallace, Val Clark and Horace Fine.

Lively Group Enjoys Trabuco Canyon Outing

Mountain sage and wealth of wild flowers now blossoming in Trabuco canyon, added to the charm of a house-party given there last week by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ramsey whose attractive canyon home was once a part of the Ed. Atkinson ranch.

Reminiscent of early California days was the hospitality extended by the hosts, and the toothsome meats prepared by Mr. Ramsey himself, were cooked underground in a Dutch oven. When dinner was served, the entire party congregated around a long table laid in the 30-foot living room, near a cheerful fire blazing on the wide hearth.

In the party were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ramsey, their son, Merle K. Ramsey with Mrs. Ramsey and their children, Dorothy, Bernice, Mary Jane and Merle Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lisle, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Leiby, Mrs. Allie Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Heine and son Norman.

Quiet Wedding Takes Place at Riverside Saturday

A quiet wedding of Saturday was that of Miss Thelma Burd, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Burd of Costa Mesa, and Robert Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lancaster, 1426 North Baker street. The wedding took place at Riverside at the First Methodist church, the pastor of the church officiating.

The bride was very lovely in a pale blue tulle gown with a hat of horsehair braid in the same tint and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The young people were unattended.

The bride is a member of the graduating class of the Orange Union high school and the bridegroom was graduated from the Santa Ana high school and is associated with his father in the work of commercial spraying.

On arriving in Santa Ana, the young people shared honors at an evening event given in the R. T. Lancaster home when a reception was given for them and the birthday of Mrs. Lancaster was observed. A wedding cake and a birthday cake were served with ices and the evening was spent at an informal game of bridge.

Those present with the hosts and honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Lancaster and children; Ray and Jack Lancaster, Mrs. Katherine Lancaster, Douglas Woodfill, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Snowden, Mrs. Stella Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenleaf, Harvey Greenleaf, Mrs. Nona Greenleaf, Charles Greenleaf, Miss Margaret Wood, Dr. J. A. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greenleaf, Mrs. Amanda Greenleaf, Frank Greenleaf, Charles Wood and Johnnie Cogswell.

Harbor Yacht Club Family Cruise Was Pleasant Event

Newport Harbor Yacht club's first "family cruise" of the summer sailing season, held over the Memorial day holiday and weekend, proved one of the most enjoyable of outings for those taking part, and a pleasant augury of summer sailing events to come.

Five boats which are anchored in the Yacht club waters at Newport, left early Friday morning for Cherry cove at Catalina Island, and were joined by a number of other members of the club who kept their boats anchored at San Pedro. In the party leaving from Newport Bay, were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson of 2004 North Ross street, with their daughter and son, Miss Martha Wilson and Lewis Wilson, and two guests, George Daws of Anaheim and Judson Palmer of this city, on board the Wilson boat, "Lestell."

Others taking part in the cruise, were George Coleman of Balboa, and his party on board "La Palate;" Roy Barnard of Los Angeles, and his party aboard the "Jolly Beggar;" Edward T. Wall of Riverside and party aboard the "Blue Goose;" and George Baker of Riverside, on the "Howayne."

In Baker's party were the commodore of the Yacht club, Leon Hoesman of Riverside, and his mother, Mrs. Hoesman.

Rough seas were encountered on the cruise to the "Magic Isle," the "Jolly Beggar" finding especially hard going when she lost her forward hatch, and was compelled to lower her sails until she could be hauled out. However it was considered part of the game by the "jolly tars," and the time at the island was well worth any minor mishaps on the way over.

Most of the time was spent at Cherry cove although several members of the party put in at Avalon on Saturday for an afternoon of dancing at the pavilion.

Traveler Is Honored On Eve of Departure For Europe

Miss Maude Moore, who is to leave tomorrow on the first stage of an extended trip abroad, was the incentive for a delightfully informal farewell party Saturday evening, when her mother, Mrs. S. A. Moore, entertained in her home, 1208 North Van Ness avenue.

A variety of multi-colored flowers made a pretty setting for the event.

Bridge was played until late in the evening, when delectable refreshments were served. Mrs. C. Aaby held high score, and Mrs. Loretta Stewart was awarded the consolation prize.

Miss Moore was presented with a variety of gifts, including many lovely handkerchiefs, which she will take with her on the much anticipated trip to Europe.

Those enjoying the happy occasion were Mesdames C. Aaby, N. E. Watson, Loretta Stewart, Fred Flammig, Charles Schmiedberg, V. E. Wentworth, Jesse Smith, J. F. Richards, and the Misses Ruth Cartmell, Lucile Carter, Bess Joyce, the honoree, Miss Maude Moore and the hostess, Mrs. S. A. Moore.

To Leave For Europe In Near Future

The lure of the lands across the water seem to have a magnetic hold on Santa Anans this season, for many are the fortunate groups who have already departed for Europe or are soon to sail. Among the latter groups is Miss Maude Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Moore, 1208 North Van Ness avenue, and a teacher in the Oceanide high school. As one of the Clark Sons' touring group, Miss Moore will sail from Montreal June 14. She will leave here tomorrow, and will stop at Wyoming, Chicago, and Niagara Falls.

Following an extensive tour of England, Scotland, Germany, and other points abroad, Miss Moore will return to this country in the early fall, stopping at various places of interest on the way home, among which are New York and Indianapolis.

Huntington Library Is Visited By Club Members

That popular mecca for Santa Ana clubs, the Huntington library at San Marino, was the destination of a large group of Wrycende Maedenu members Saturday afternoon, when they motored to the beautiful spot.

The afternoon was passed quickly in wandering through the buildings and the spacious grounds, and the visit was as much enjoyed by those who had previously made the excursion, and took this opportunity to see again some favorite haunts, as those who were making their first visit.

A delectable dinner in Hollywood concluded the day's happy program. Those making the trip were the Misses Mina Harden, Helen Roberts, Beulah Dudgeon, Helen Glancy, Vena-Belle Bryant, Mildred Calkins, Elvira Tadd, Nancy Elder, Mary Jane Owens, Dorothy Dressler, Louise Bryant, Hattie Bell Wall. Guests were Mrs. H. J. Howard, Mrs. J. Dressler, Mrs. Lee Bryant and Miss Mary Wall.

Picnic Is Pleasant Recent Event

Teachers of the high school and junior college were guests of the P. T. A. of these institutions recently, when a large group motored to Irvine park for an evening picnic. An interesting informal evening was spent, following the most delectable menu served under the tall sheltering trees. This was on of the last of the high school and junior college P. T. A. social affairs this year, and it was with the utmost enthusiasm that the happy group whiled away the hours in a "get-together" fashion.

Your Hair Needs Calcium

I have a letter from a woman who says that at 65 she finds her hair beginning to thin with astonishing rapidity and dandruff one of her added crosses. I wonder if it isn't the lack of calcium in her diet and too little protein for tissue repair purposes?

Hair, teeth and nails are all tissue just as much as the muscle in your arm—that is, the same elements are required to grow them. When we cut down on foods containing the things which grow the various "tissues" we may expect hair to get thin and an unhealthy discouraged scalp to break out with dandruff.

I am of the opinion that much might be done by drinking less tea and coffee, replacing them at lunch and dinner by milk or buttermilk; by eating cottage cheese, and other cheese if easily digested, more frequently; and by stressing during the summer and fall months, the use of green vegetables, cooked and in salads, raw, with fresh fruit replacing cooked desserts.

The immediate treatment for this condition is to stimulate the scalp and keep it immaculately clean. Rub a little white vaseline into the scalp the night before shampooing, comb the hair gently but thoroughly with a fine dressing comb to loosen up the loose flakes of dry skin before and after shampooing, then with finger tips gently rotating the scalp rub in a small amount of warm olive oil.

Twelve times put any good hair tonic into the scalp and massage the scalp thoroughly until it tingles. Do this every day and scalp troubles will soon be a thing of the past.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Stuffed Chicken Legs

1 leg for each portion

Salt and pepper to season

1-4 pound bulk pork sausage

Sage and nutmeg seasonings

Sliced onion, carrot, celery

Sliced bacon

Broth or hot water

No doubt you have seen in markets frying chickens out in pieces, ready for cooking. You can buy any amount you wish, and any part of the chicken, so this recipe is just made for the purpose. The chicken legs must be quite large, however.

Lay the chicken legs on a board and with a sharp knife slit clear to the bone on one side. Remove the bone and stringy sinews, flatten the legs out and pound them a little. Season well and put a spoonful of seasoned sausage (sage and nutmeg seasoning) on each piece. Fold into shape and sew along the side where cut. Flour and brown quickly in hot fat. Transfer to baking pan or casserole, cover with sliced bacon and strewn over slices of the vegetables. Cover half way up with broth or hot water, bake slowly, basting frequently. Add more water to the liquid left from baking, thicken and serve with the chicken.

Chicken for six (6 legs) has a calorie value, cooked according to this recipe, of 1400, or about 235 per person. Add another 100 calories for gravy served each person.

The poor housewife who must live within the rigid limits of a budget occasionally gets a break, and this time it is on spring lamb. You may have noticed that spring lamb is a drug on the market and may be bought as low as 30 cents per pound for choice legs. The leaflet for this week offers you numerous ways of serving SPRING LAMB from leg of lamb down to lamb stew, and every recipe a gem of its kind. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a free copy this week.

Tomorrow's lesson will be on making Fruit Cookies. If the fruit is left out, the cookies are a delicate rich butter cookie, a recipe requested by numerous readers of the Mixing Bowl.

BARRYMORE PLAYS AT WALKER TODAY

John Barrymore's first Vitaphone comedy opened last evening at Walker's State theater under the title of "The Man from Blankley's."

"The Man from Blankley's" is a lively English farce, satirizing a middle class family and their friends.

"The Tidmarsh dinner, which is a highlight of the picture, is one of the funniest sequences ever screened. Mr. Barrymore is assisted by a cast amazing in appearance and ability. All are of ancient vintage except lovely Loretta Young, who plays the lead, and little Angela Mowby, infant terrible.

The story deals with the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Tidmarsh in honor of their rich Chicago uncle, Gabriel Gilwattle. Regrets having reduced the number of guests to thirteen, the Tidmarshes hire a guest, without seeing him, and later countermand the order. He, it is hardly necessary to point out, is the "Man from Blankley's." When he does put in an appearance he has himself announced as Lord Strathpeffer, and neither he nor his new acquaintances know that he has stumbled into the wrong house. Then pandemonium breaks loose.

LOS ALAMITOS

LOS ALAMITOS, June 2.—Mrs. Fred Doane of Howard street entertained the Willing Workers Tuesday afternoon at their last meeting of the year. Plans were completed for the winter bake and moonlight picnic to be held at Anaheim Landing on the evening of June 11. Members will meet at the Gillis service station at 6 p. m. The next business meeting of the club will be held September 9. Mrs. Felton Doss will entertain the members at the next "Cottlet" party, June 3 in her home in Cypress.

Mrs. F. P. Roselot was presented with a beautiful bouquet at the church Sunday morning, the gift of the Sunday school.

WEST COAST SHOWS 'BAD ONE' TODAY

Edmund Lowe and Dolores Del Rio, the two stars who helped to make "What Price Glory" one of the greatest pictures ever made, return together to Santa Ana today in their latest all-talking First National picture, "The Bad One."

This play will be seen and heard at the Fox West Coast theater for three days.

"The Bad One" is much on the order of "What Price Glory" in many ways, although it is not a war picture. The roles of Lowe and Miss Del Rio are similar to those of the other picture.

The story is laid in Marseilles, France, where the girl is an entertainer in a Marseilles waterfront cafe. It is her business to entertain customers with light love making, and because she is no adept at it, other entertainers call her "the bad one."

One day Lowe wanders in and falls in love with her. He takes her love making seriously and when she tries to have him thrown out of the place, he whips the bouncer. This immediately gives him the job, and he deserts his ship in order to be near the girl. Then he wins her. They are about to be married, when a former suitor of the woman comes in and demands that she marry him according to a promise made several months before.

Lowe is convinced then that the girl has not been true to him. He kills the man and is sent to prison. In order to be near him where she hopes to convince him of her love, the girl goes to the prison through a ruse and the climax of the film comes with a wallow that leaves the audience limp. A Fox Movietone news reel also is shown, together with an all-talking comedy.

Telephone subscribers in Egypt are provided with telephone directories in either Arabic or European characters, and have the option of making their calls in either Arabic, English, French or Italian. Consequently telephone operators in that country are fair linguists. The operators employed are women and girls in the large cities and towns for day duty only, and men in the smaller provincial towns.

Charles "Buddy" Rogers, youthful Paramount star, comes back to Santa Ana today in his latest all-talking feature, "Safety in Numbers."

The picture is the latest Paramount release, and plays at the Fox Broadway theater for four days, starting today.

This is the first time Rogers has been seen in a musical show and he is supported by a bevy of beautiful girls, 15 of the most beautiful in Hollywood.

The story concerns a young man, who on his 21st birthday inherits $25,000. In order that he will not be ensnared by some beautiful girl, he surrounds himself with a number of them, on the theory that one will keep the other away from him. The plan works exceedingly well until—

The climax of the play comes with a bang and the right girl wins the young millionaire but not until after a series of encounters with many admirers. A number of good songs are heard and Rogers sings several of them.

Three of the girls who have the most important roles are: Carol Lombard, who was seen here last week in "The Arizona Kid," Kathryn Crawford and Josephine Dunn. They have an apartment on top of a New York skyscraper and play the parts of girls of the chorus.

The picture is something new for Buddy Rogers and he does his work exceedingly well. A Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

Why Practical

People PREFER this Practical Transportation

OVER 300,000 passengers ride the Big Red Cars each day.

Most of these busy men and women are regular passengers because they enjoy the following decided advantages of Big Red Car service:

They find relief from the nerve strain created by traffic and parking worries.

Another advantage is the extra leisure gained on the way to work...extra time in which to relax in comfort, read the paper, or plan the day's activities. And at the end of the day's work...relaxation again instead of added effort.

They know that a carefully trained man drives them safely and swiftly to their destination.

And fourth, they know that speedy, dependable Big Red Car transportation costs very little. In fact the Monthly Pass and Commutation fares are but a fraction over one cent per mile.

Fifth, they enjoy convenient schedules...planned especially to meet their needs.

These thousands upon thousands of practical people have convinced themselves of these advantages...and the numbers are increasing every day.

Why not learn for yourself what these thousands have learned? Why not give the Big Red Cars a TEN DAY TRIAL?

Just telephone your local agent for complete information and schedules from your neighborhood.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinies all seemed very glad to help pitch grain. Of course they'd had a very restful loafing spell. A little work felt good. Wee Scouty grabbed a pitchfork and he shouted, "I think this is grand. We fellows never get as much hard labor as we should."

"You're right," the Travel Man replied. And then he very gladly agreed. "I well remember when I was a little lad like you. I used to work the live-long day, and seldom had much time for play. Nowadays I'm quickly tired out by the little work I do."

Then Clowzy said, "Well, just watch me. I'm pretty good and you will see that I pitch much more than my share. I know I'll beat the rest." A smile spread on each Tinee's face and each one started in the race. When they were through, wee Coppy cried, "I win! I've done the best."

The farmer then cried, "Well, you all have done real well. You didn't stall. And now I'm going to feed you. Follow me right in my house. This was a very pleasant treat and soon they all sat down to eat. The food was fine and every one was quiet as a mouse."

In 'bout an hour they left the spot to drive again. My, it was hot! Soon Carpy shouted, "There's a town. Oh, gee, I'm glad we came." They reached the town and looked around and lots of pretty scenery found. "This is a charming place," said one. "Trollhattan is its name."

At supper time they ran pell-mell down to a very fine hotel. Out on a little porch they sat and watched a falls roll by. And then they ate a wondrous meal, and oh, how good it made them feel. A long time after dark they loafed beneath the starlit sky.

Missing Letter Links

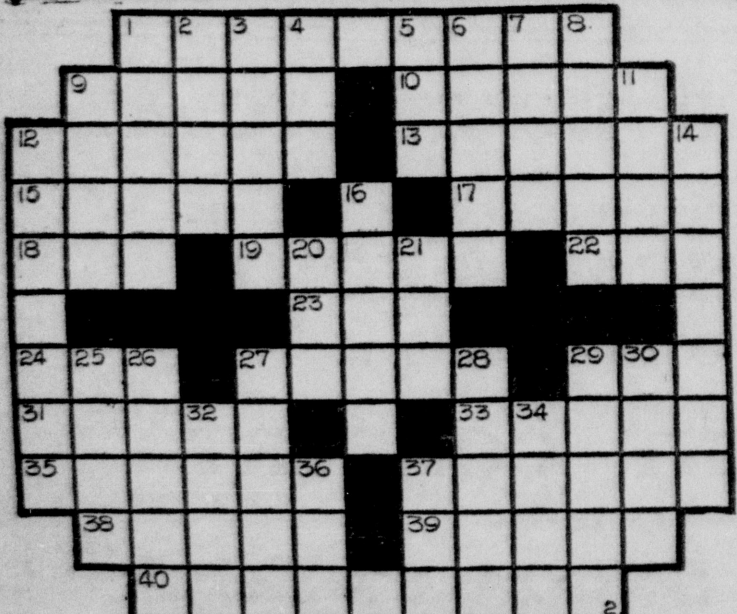

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

WEST TO WARD—We go WESTWARD to shoot this letter links hole, and try our luck on a foreign course. Par is five.

GARDEN GROVE P.-T. A. HOLDS LAST MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, June 2.—The grammar school P.-T. A. held its last meeting of the year in the Washington school Thursday afternoon.

The school orchestra, under the direction of W. O. Axworthy, played several selections. The girls' glee club sang and the teachers' trio, consisting of Miss Betty Toland, Miss Lois Wheeler and Miss Edna Bumgarner, accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Lemm, gave several numbers.

Mrs. William Dales gave a report of the state convention at Riverside. Walter Sehnhardt gave a talk on "Safety Work." Mrs. Ethel Evans displayed the "Publicity Book" which won recognition at the state convention. Mrs. J. O. Arkley reported on the year's work.

Mrs. L. L. Trickey, retiring president, turned the gavel over to Mrs. Dales.

Walter Lehnhardt exhibited an interesting display of work accomplished by his manual training classes.

The domestic science class, under the direction of Miss Rosalind Walker, served delicious refreshments of sandwiches, tea and cookies. The table, which was artistically decorated, was the handiwork of the class. Seventy-five members of the P.-T. A. were present.

Members of the school board and their wives or husbands were entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon in the high school Thursday.

The luncheon was served by the girls of the Home Economics class under the direction of Miss Jessie Filer.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Arkley and L. L. Dolg.

W. J. HILL ACQUIRES 10-ACRE PROPERTY

WESTMINSTER, June 2.—The real estate firm of Larter, Hosack and Olsen, of Westminster, has completed a deal whereby Walter J. Hill, owner of Midway City, gets the 10 acre tract located on the west side of Lamb road, the purchase being made from C. C. Johnson.

The 10-acre deal includes the transfer as part payment of 12½ acres just south of Lamb road, two miles south of the former Johnson property, through the realty firm and it is understood that Mr. Johnson will locate on his new property.

The acreage is commonly known as the Swift place, and was recently purchased through the California bank, of Los Angeles, by R. E. Larter.

The Johnson 10 which Mr. Hill has purchased, adjoins a large acreage owned by him. The improvements on the 10 were reserved by Mr. Johnson, who is one of the oldest residents of the section and has owned the property for over 30 years.

In 1929, 225 severe hailstorms were reported in the United States with estimated total damage of over $10,000,000.

HUSBAND HONORED WITH CARD PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, June 2.—Mrs. Henry Luther entertained with a card party Thursday evening in honor of her husband, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

"Five hundred" was the diversion of the evening's entertainment. First prizes were awarded Mrs. Adams, of Huntington Beach, and George Annin, of Fullerton; second prizes went to Mrs. Robert Keller and P. Stroud while Mrs. Gus Ward and Mr. Siverson won consolation prizes.

Mr. Luther received many lovely presents.

Refreshments of ice cream, birthday cake and coffee were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Annin, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ward, of Bolsa; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Stroud and daughter, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Longstreet, Mr. and Mrs. Swenson, Frank Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stennett, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Adams, of Huntington Beach; Roy Luther, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luther.

AUDITORIUM IN FULLERTON IS DEDICATED

FULLERTON, June 2.—Dedication services of the new Fullerton union high school auditorium were held last night with approximately 2000 persons in attendance.

The services which were sponsored by the Fullerton Ministerial association, consisted of congregational singing and the sermon by Dr. Frederick Woelner of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"Bigger and Better Establishments" was the subject of Dr. Woelner, who praised the community on the marvelous auditorium constructed for the education of the youth of the community. In speaking of the so-called revolt of youth, he declared:

"There is no revolt of youth today and there never has been. The youth of today are doing the same thing which the youth of all generations have done, they are striving for bigger and better establishments. The youth should not be criticised for displaying the ambition which God has placed in every person."

The services opened with an organ prelude, "Hymn of Glory," with Willard Smith at the console of the Wurlitzer organ. Following the singing of a hymn by the congregation, "Holy, Holy, Holy," the Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, of the First Methodist church, led in the congregational invocation. The prayer, "Break Thou the Bread of Life," was followed by the scripture reading by the congregation, led by the Rev. N. S. Horst. "Come Thou Almighty King" was sung by the congregation; silent prayer and the Lord's prayer was led by Rev. George P. Tinsley, of the First Christian church. Words of community dedication was led by Taylor Jacobson, after which the hymn of dedication by the congregation was sung. Rev. C. E. Maltas led in the prayer of dedication, after which an anthem, "Festival Te Deum in E Flat" (Dudley Buck) was sung by Miss Lucille Bush, Miss Elsie Moore, Gordon Drew.

Dr. Woelner, who is one of the oldest residents of the section and has owned the property for over 30 years.

In 1929, 225 severe hailstorms were reported in the United States with estimated total damage of over $10,000,000.

HUGE CROWDS SEE FETE IN SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, June 2.—The Days of '49 fete at the Social club featured this city's three-day holiday celebration. Hundreds of people from the Spanish village, as far north as Long Beach and Santa Ana and as far south as San Diego came to San Clemente for the annual Men's club party. Dancing, games, entertainment and food featured the evening. Dancing did not stop until 2 o'clock in the morning. It is estimated that the club made almost $300 on the party, which money will be used in charity and welfare work by the men's organization.

Trafford Huteson had charge of the fete and it was due to his efficient work that it was a success.

Assisting Huteson were Ted Hanson, Charley and Bill Watkins, Tom Halseth, A. N. Southwell, George Stearns, Fred H. and John Burhop, Dan Mulherton, Frank Rowland, Al Schneberger, Danny Travaglini, Earl Von Bonhorst, Roy Strang and other members of the Men's club. Tommy Murphree Jr., president of the organization, thanked all the club members for their effort in making the party a success.

Early Thursday morning the crowd started arriving in the Spanish village for the three-day holiday. Hotels were filled and many people were guests of friends in San Clemente. Fishing parties, golf matches, surf and fresh water bathing, horseback riding entertained the thousands of visitors.

The city entertained the biggest crowd of the season, a crowd that will only be equaled by the three-day Fourth of July and Labor day vacation periods.

SPANISH VILLAGE GOLFERS IN MEET

SAN CLEMENTE, June 2.—Four golfers from the Spanish village will take part in the pro-amateur tournament of the Southern Counties Pro-Amateur Golf association to be held at La Jolla this afternoon. Tom Murphree Jr., amateur, will pair with Pete Garner, assistant pro at San Clemente, while J. A. Ross will team up with Babe Brissoneau, Spanish village pro.

In the last pro-amateur of the association held at San Clemente last Monday the Spanish village teams placed well up. In the tournament Murphree played with Brissoneau while Garner was paired with Ross.

Reginald Taylor and a chorus of the combined choirs of the Fullerton churches, directed by Glenn Lewis. Dr. Woelner was introduced by S. C. Hartman, former president of the board of trustees of the Fullerton union high school and district junior college, who was a member of the board when the construction of the building was begun. He expressed appreciation for the opportunity of assisting in the dedication of the new auditorium which was made possible through the co-operation of the citizens of the community.

Dr. Woelner, who is one of the oldest residents of the section and has owned the property for over 30 years.

In 1929, 225 severe hailstorms were reported in the United States with estimated total damage of over $10,000,000.

NEWPORT TO START NEW SCHOOL SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, June 2.—According to Donald J. Dodge, president of the high school board, from 10 to 12 tenders are expected to be opened on June 3, for the construction of the high school buildings. The class rooms will be rushed to completion and it is believed that sufficient units of the program will be finished by September 15 to permit the housing of all the pupils available at that time. The auditorium, shops and gymnasium will be added as soon as possible. The personnel of the teaching force has been practically decided on and apparently nothing will prevent the opening of the current year on time.

28 GRADUATES TO LEAVE AT WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, June 2.—The eighth grade of the Westminster school adopted a certain standard for honor pupils. Scholarship, deportment and attendance were considered. A total of 600 grade points in the seven major subjects, arithmetic, reading, spelling, history, geography, penmanship, spelling, was required, and no grade could be below 80 per cent in those subjects. The department had to be 85 per cent or above.

The year was divided into five periods of two months each. During the first period the following made the honor roll: Sumi Akayami, Pauline Camacho, Emmaetta Hart, Hazel Heil, Evelyn Lindstrom and Maxine Terry.

During the second period the pupils who made the honor roll were John Day, Toribio Robles, Sumi Akayami, Pauline Camacho, Thelma Condit, Emmaetta Hart, Hazel Heil, Evelyn Lindstrom and Maxine Terry.

On the honor roll the third period were Toribio Robles, Sumi Akayami, Pauline Camacho, Thelma Condit, Emmaetta Hart, Hazel Heil and Evelyn Lindstrom.

The fourth period the following were on the honor roll: Thelma Condit, Emmaetta Hart, Hazel Heil, Pauline Miller and Maxine Terry.

The last period found the following on the honor roll: Melvin Heil, Beryl McKenzie, Toribio Robles, Clarence Wasser, Thelma Condit, Emmaetta Hart, Mary Lou Hare, Emmaetta Hart, Evelyn Lindstrom, Pauline Miller and Maxine Terry.

Of the 30 pupils of the class, 24 passed the first U. S. constitution examination. The other six passed creditably on the second. The highest three grades were Toribio Robles 100 per cent, and Clarence Wasser 97 per cent on the first test and Pauline Miller 97 per cent on the second.

There will be 28 boys and 14 girls, to receive diplomas. However, the other two have passed the examination on the constitution.

Those graduating are, Sumi Akayami, Mary Arnett, Jeanne Baxter, Pauline Camacho, Thelma Condit, Annabelle Day, Hattie Edwards, Mary Lou Hare, Emmaetta Hart, Hazel Heil, Evelyn Lindstrom, Pauline Miller, Mary Mori, Maxine Terry, Ronald Barber, Ben Basse, Martin Bermudez, Clifford Crane, John Day, James Grow, Chester Heil, Melvin Heil, Glenn Lawrence, Beryl McKenzie, Louie Palomino, Donald Wardlow, Clarence Wasser.

The graduating program will be held in the auditorium for the school on Thursday evening, June 5.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Our conceptions of truth are constantly changing with man's steadily widening experience."

—REV. JOHN HAYNES HOLMES.

HORTON BUILDING

The J. C. Horton Furniture Company is going into its large and commodious new quarters today. The head of this concern is J. C. Horton. Every enterprise that has developed and amounted to anything has done so because of the personality and brains behind it. An institution is but "the lengthened shadow of a man."

This is true of the Horton Company. Its character, its success, its policies and its reliability all bespeak the individuality of the man who founded it and has guided it to the present moment.

We are not particularly interested in the question of whether the institution of the J. C. Horton Furniture Company makes a financial success or not. It means nothing particularly to us whether it sells a great deal of furniture or does not, but it is of great importance to us and to the rest of the people in any city whether we have such citizens in our midst who build into the civic life, into the religious life, and into the various institutions of our community those fine and solid virtues which go to make up the standards of life in the city.

It may be possible to make money without character; and it may be possible to build up a business without the owner and director having personal virtue. We know this is possible because policies may be adopted in an institution for business reasons with which the personal life of the founder does not square. It is a matter, therefore, of great satisfaction and joy when the institution which has grown, is given spirit and power by one whose life is personally well-known in the community, and whose personal standards and private actions thoroughly harmonize with the policies which he has laid down and is carrying out for the control of his business enterprise.

"We know and believe in him." This can be said concerning the directing head of this institution by all those who come in contact with him. It is a wonderful thing to do business or have social relationships with honest and honorable men,—men of such a type as do not compel you to examine your conduct to see whether justice is provided for in it, but whose personal character and reputation are such that they will correct a mistake whether it is in your contract or not.

We need more such men, men who are anxious to build their own character and the character of others in the community; men who desire to establish the best in personal life; men who are anxious for the personal welfare of their fellows; men who are willing to sacrifice to keep them in the best of physical and moral health, and are willing to go out of their way to restore men in those respects who may have fallen.

We rejoice in the success of this type of men. We are glad that Santa Ana has so many of them. Mr. Horton is a conspicuous example.

The thief who entered a sausage company in Chicago and made away with blueprints of 40 sausage models apparently believed in "getting 'em while they're hot."

THE MAN WHO REFUSED A CROWN

It has been little noted that Fritjof Nansen, explorer, scientist, and humanitarian, who recently died, was offered the crown of Norway when that country broke the dual relationship with Sweden in 1905. Since that time, the place he has held in the hearts of the people of his own land has been extended to the hearts of all the unfortunates and the starving of Europe. When he visited this country just a year ago, and stood on the platform to tell in a modest way what it had been his privilege and pleasure to do to heal the hurts of the Great War, every one who heard him was impressed with the royal bearing of the man and his kindly sincerity.

For him there was something much more worth-while than a royal crown. Had he accepted the kingship of Norway, his talents and his influence must of necessity have been limited to his native land. His death would have been noted in the newspapers in the usual perfunctory way which marks the passing of the king of one of the smaller states of the world. But his noble work for the famine sufferers of Russia and other lands through the Red Cross has left millions to mourn for him instead of thousands.

In a world of greed and grasping for power, in which all too many are ready, as Carlyle once said, and eager to catch the hallelujahs of flunkies, it is worth while to note one man who was above such things. He has written his name therefore upon the hearts of millions who rise up to call him blessed. All honor to Fritjof Nansen, daring explorer, eminent scientist, and higher than all, friend of mankind and lover of peace. It is such as he who keep strong our faith in humanity.

"ONLY ONE DEATH"

One of the publicity stories for a new talkie states in its head, "Only one death in making film" and the first sentence of the article says: "Only one fatal accident happened during the filming . . ." One is led to wonder how many deaths are customary in filming a show.

Fortunately, it was probably just an unhappy alignment of words by someone or other. If the meaning back of the news article is really what it appears, that not to have more than one death during the filming of a show is unusual, something should be done about it. That the filming of the show cost a life will be startling enough news for most of us.

THE LABOR MINISTRY STILL HOLDS IN BRITAIN

The Conservatives in the British Parliament continue to nag the Labor Government, but thus far with little effect. A recent test vote on the lowering of the salary of Mr. Thomas of the department which has to do with the unemployment problem in Britain, resulted in a government majority of over 30. A breach in the Labor party itself on the same question was more threatening; but when brought before the party council, the ministry was sustained by an overwhelming majority.

The fact is, neither Conservatives nor Liberals are anxious just now for a general election. It is more than likely that if a test vote were taken which would actually endanger the Labor Government, enough Liberals and Conservatives would abstain from voting to hold the Government in power. The Conservatives have little to hope for at the present time in a general election. The same is true for the Liberals. The latter party has hopes that the present Government will pass an electoral reform bill which will give it a representation in Parliament more commensurate with the large vote it polls in the popular election.

An election in Britain, as here in the United States, involves the expenditure of an enormous amount of money. No party desires to risk an appeal to the country unless there is a strong possibility of winning the elections. For that reason the Labor Government may continue in power yet for some time. And yet, so quickly do divisive questions arise in an Empire so far-flung and so complex, that no one can predict anything as to how long any Government can endure. However, the party in power in Britain, as here in the United States, had the advantage of setting the stage and choosing the strategic time to cast the die.

METHODIST CHURCH, SOUTH, EXPANDS

It has just been our pleasure to pass through the new department of the Methodist Church, South, devoted to religious education. We want to congratulate this church in branching out into this particular development.

It, in common with many other churches, is recognizing the great need of specialization along the line of religious education. The church is recognizing more and more that religion is not a matter of a single compartment in any individual's life, but that it comprises all compartments and affects all phases of it.

Anything that affects the physical or the mental or the spiritual life of a man must interest him who would have a real profound religion worthy of the name. It is the recognition of this that is causing the churches to set apart men who are devoting themselves to the educational part of the religious life, and in harmony with this to build a plant, so that facilities for class rooms and various phases of work are provided for those who desire to make use of them.

The Spurgeon Memorial Methodist Church, South, is doing this. It is fulfilling its functions. It is up-to-date. It worthily represents the great body of Christian men and women.

Service to The World
Oakland Tribune

A national conference on street and highway safety meeting in Washington may serve with the outlining of programs, summoning of best advice, and the assembling of statistics. The bulk of the work, however devolves upon the local organizations, state and municipal, which may find information and stimulation in what the larger conference suggests.

When President Hoover told the third national conference that accident prevention work is a service to the entire nation he paid tribute to laborers which, for the most part, are volunteered and performed without public notice or any material reward. The meeting itself, demonstrated the growth of this concern for public safety. Where there used to be but few organizations and programs, acting independently, there is now a co-ordinated program with leadership and supporters in every state. Casting over the records since that last national conference in 1926 the delegates will find, on the surface, little reason for encouragement. There is no way by which they may be informed what those records would have shown without the efforts in which they have participated. They may find, however, that wherever the efforts are the most consistent and intelligent; wherever there is the largest measure of public support, the accidents have been reduced, or have not increased in proportion to the increase in population and number of motor cars. It is possible to show that the educational work conducted in the schools, with young drivers, and with boys and girls as safety officers at the crossing when school is being dismissed, has saved many lives.

The conference would review what has been done, appraise its program, adopt suggestions and outline work for the future. Its success is something to be prayed for by every citizen.

By Way of Endorsing Name of New Planet

San Francisco Chronicle

Everyone should be pleased to have the baby planet named at last. It seemed a shame to let the dear little thing go along for more than four months as "Planet X," as if it were a character in a cosmic problem play. Worse still, some people merely called the new planet "it," thus exposing it to the risk of being mistaken for Elinor Glyn's famous contribution to human vanity.

We were afraid for a while that the child would be permitted to grow up without a name and would be addressed as, "Say," a form of address many young husbands adopt toward mother-in-law. In that case, of course, the awkwardness can be corrected after a year or so when she is called "Grandma." It would be different with a planet.

We commend the name "Pluto" as classic and euphonious. It will, however, be shortened up to "Plute" when the youngsters begin to go out with the boys. That cannot be helped, and "Plute" is better than "Fewe" or "Pug" or some such which would have been adopted had the real name been bestowed been fancier or more romantic.

We welcome Pluto, though not to our midst. He is really a little too far out for that.

Week after week I've daily heard
You gallantly rejoice,
And wondered how so small a bird
Could have so vast a voice.
You sing, though skies be gray or blue,
And freely I confess,
That frequently I wish that you
Would curb your happiness.

You sing each time a twig you bring
To build your nest withal.
You sing as on your whirling wing
You fly from tree to wall.
You sing when you have wolfed a gnaw
Or slug or fly or such,
And I am quite persuaded that
You sing too doggone much.

It must be hard upon your throat,
Which can't be very strong,
From dawn to twilight to devote
So many hours to song.
I know that glorious thoughts imbue
Your tiny feathered breast,
But really, there are times when you
Must need a little rest.

Though always fond of cheerfulness
It sometimes is a bore,
And if you had a little less
I'd have a good bit more.
And as the summer day along
From tree to nest you roam
I wish you had a smaller song
Or a sound-proof home.

"Give A Job Till June"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"Give" is a magic word. Even in hard-boiled America—especially in hard-boiled America—"give" packs a mightier wallop than "get."

Heywood Brown's slogan, "Give a job till June," was cunningly constructed to get under the American skin.

Some irreverent persons may suggest that Mr. Brown got his idea from the fact that a large percentage of life-jobs are taken on in June. Such persons may denounce the plan as an effort to help the improvident get together enough money for the honeymoon.

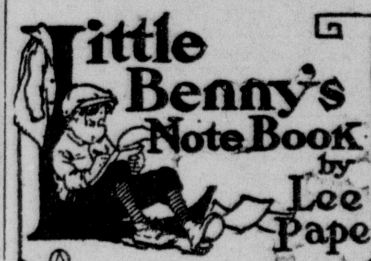

Suspicious people who look for the up-turned capitalistic palm in every movement may even suggest that the railroads were using Mr. Brown to boom their Niagara Falls business.

But we think not. We believe that the "give a job till June" plan was just what it purported to be.

It was due to meet with success. It had all the ingredients. First, it had alliteration, which always helps. Second, it appealed to men who dare, for public generosity, what they would not dare for private gain. Third, and most important, it had a definite time limit. Short-pull aid is more cheerfully offered than the indeterminate variety. And now that June is here, many projects for public works, then hardly beyond the blue-print stage, have reached the blue-overalls stage.

Mr. Brown's plan was a practical method for employers to cast their bread upon the waters. The probabilities are that it will come back to them in accelerated customer buying—Well—buttered with profits.

Us fellows started a secret club today, and everybody is it and everybody in it has to say Yes when they mean No and vice virtue, and this afternoon ma sed to me, Benny, I want you to go to the store for me.

No mam, I sed, and ma sed, What was that? and I sed, That means Yes mam.

Well Im relieved to hear it, I must say, ma sed. I want you to get me a spool of white sewing thread number 70, do you think you can remember? she sed.

No mam, I sed, and ma sed, O you and ma sed, Well then for mersey sakes I'll write it down for you, but dont you think you awt to be able to remember a simple thing like that at your age?

No mam, I sed and ma sed, O you dont, well I think otherwise, and whats more Ill give you a harty smack if you dare to anser me like that, are you crazy?

Yes mam, I sed.
Meaning No mam, and ma sed, O, you are, well see if this will cure you.

And she started to get redly to begin to give me a slap, and I quick sed, Hay, wait a minnit, ma, when I say No mam I mean Yes mam and when I say Yes mam I mean No mam, its a club I belong to and we all haff to do it.

O is that so? ma sed, and I sed, No mam, that means Yes mam.

Well what does this mean? ma sed. And she gave me the hardest slap she's gave me this week. Probberly meaning just what it felt like, and ma sed, Now do you know what Im sending you for?

Me shaking my hed Yes on account of nothing being in the rules of the club about shaking your hed different, and on my way to the store I decided to myself the rules of the club was only for members tawking to each other.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE NEW EDUCATION—LAW ONE

This week I want to state with brevity and clarity some of the laws that seem to me to underlie a thoroughly modern education.

The first law seems to me to be that we learn by action rather than by absorption.

We learn to do by doing rather than by talking about doing.

We learn to think by thinking rather than by memorizing what some one else has thought.

We learn to live by living rather than by having some one tell us how to live.

A college should not be designed as a place where students may learn things in the sense of memorizing them.

A college should be designed as a place in which students may be given a chance to grow in a planned environment under expert guidance.

The duty of a college is to be a supplement to experience.

The temptation of a college is to become a substitute for experience.

Primitive man was unschooled but he was not uneducated.

He gained his education by dodging danger in the jungle, by contriving ways and means of survival in an unfavorable environment, and in drinking the heady wine of high-hearted adventure that taxed all of his powers of observation and adaptation.

He went to school in the school of experience, where the tuition was high, but the education was real.

One day a bright primitive father thought it would save the time of his sons if they could be taught some of the fruits of experience, so he started the first school.

All he expected that first school to do was to direct his sons in getting their experience in the least wasteful way.

We, his successors, have too often thought we could deliver canned experience to our sons in textbooks and lectures.

We cannot, and the sooner we organize all our schools in terms of learning by action rather than by absorption the better.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI
THE GARDEN CHILD

City children lose a great deal, in fact all children who have not gardening experience, lose a great deal. In these days of city living, machines, surface skimmings of life, we are likely to lose a set of values that we can ill afford to miss. I mean those that we get from the soil.

It is the fashion for city-bred children to smile in superiority at the country child. The country child's open-eyed wonder at the ways of the city makes the city child feel on the heights. Many times he should feel quite the other way for the country child that has been well reared has a host of advantages.

Character is a matter of training. It requires self restraint, an old fashioned word that will have to be taken out of the dictionary and well dusted for the use of the coming generation.

When the original idea stands out once more it will be discovered to be that fine sense of proportion that makes character. Duty first—then all other things are added and character is set.

And what is there in the country child's life that makes for character as against that of the city child? I think it is the garden and all that belongs to it. The city child has no such chance.

You see when you think about planting something you first must prepare the ground. A few experiences teach you the utter futility of setting seed in barren soil. First you dig deep, then you fine your soil, and you feed your soil in accordance with the crop you wish to raise. Then you sow your seed, being careful how you do so, and then you tend the planting to the harvest time.

If you don't feel just like watering the beds when they need it, if you have something pleasanter to do when weeding time comes, if you neglect the thinning and the transplanting, you lose your labor. And if you lose your labor your conscience and your self respect ache and you feel very unhappy. The neighbors are not pleased with your lack of achievement. No kind words come your way.

But if you struggle through, if you dig and delve and sow and water and weed and thin and transplant and bring to harvest your crop—what a well-done job is yours. Immediately your whole being mounts a step higher. You feel like a person. You're somebody who has wrestled with life and mastered it for once.

That is a great feeling for a child to have. Few city children get that chance. All they can do is their school lessons and many a time they have scant chance at them because so many people want to do them in their stead. The country is the place for children. Give them a good school and good garden and a chance at both and they will outstrip the city child.

Personal, first hand experiences with things, and with nature are elements of character growth we must secure for our children. So far the country child has the better opportunity.

FIRST WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

On June 2, 1886, the first wedding in the White House took place when President Grover Cleveland married Miss Frances Folsom of Buffalo, the daughter of his former law partner. She was 22 and he 48.

A writer describes the event as follows: "Frances did not promise to 'obey,' but simply to love, honor, comfort and keep." The bride's veil was nearly six feet long. It was not a 'big' wedding. The guests were few. Both Frances and her husband were opposed to a showy ceremony of international proportions.

Frances and the president spent their honeymoon at Deer Park, Md., with the field glasses of reporters trained upon them. So closely were they hounded . . . that the president was later moved to refer to the 'colossal impertinence' of the press."

Frances Cleveland had five children, the second of whom was born at the White House in 1893 during the president's second administration. She was not only the first president's wife to become a mother there but was also the youngest mistress of the executive mansion.

After Cleveland's death she married Thomas J. Preston Jr., professor of archeology at Princeton.
